CARRANZA TROOPS NEAR COLUMBUS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Columbus, N. M., March 11.—Six hundred Carranza troops from Casas Grandes and Juarez reached Palomas, eight miles from the border, south of here, today.
Americans here are wondering whether the de facto government's soldiers have come to co-operate with the United States troops in the campaign against Villa in this vicinity or to oppose the entry of American soldiers, or whether the Carranzistas will cross the border into the United States if that becomes necessary in order to run down Villa and his bandit bands.
Seven wounded men of Villa's followers who were captured by Col. H. J. Stocum's troops will be tried for murder for the killing of seven United States soldiers on Thursday.
The prisoners include a boy of 12 and two officers.
P. B. Stone, special agent of the department of justice, who announced that the murder charges would be lodged, conferred with Summers Burkhardt, United States attorney for New Mexico, and afterwards said that similar charges would probably be filed against Mexican prisoners in the state courts in connection with the killing of civilians during the raid.
Washington, March 11.—Secretary of State Lansing said just before noon that up to the present time he had received no official word concerning Carranza's attitude toward the American campaign against Villa. He also said that he had not notified the Pan-American diplomatic representatives who joined with this country in the recognition of Carranza of the latest developments.

EXAMINATION FOR ANNAPOLIS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 11.—As was previously stated in The Freeman Congressman Charles B. Ward will hold a competitive examination for the young men of his district who desire to go to the naval academy at Annapolis instead of making an appointment. It has now been definitely decided that the examination will be held at Kingston, Wednesday, March 22, at nine o'clock a. m. The one receiving the highest average in this examination will be given the opportunity of entering the naval academy provided he passes satisfactorily the entrance examinations to the academy which will be held on April 18th. The examination at Kingston will be under the supervision of the civil service and will probably be held in the post office building.
Of the eight candidates who have made application for admission to the examination, four are from Ulster county.

ASK IMPROVEMENT IN MAIL SERVICE

Chamber of Commerce's Effort Now Before Post Office Department Officials—Citizens Asked For Views at Monday Night's Meeting.
Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will hold their monthly meeting on Monday night at the common council chambers, city hall, the session having been adjourned one week because of the transportation banquet. Among the matters to come up at this time is the much-discussed improvement in mail service across the Hudson river for the benefit of Kingston and other river towns, and the post offices for which they are the distributing points.
Secretary James E. Canfield has been in conference with Chief Clerk Williams, in charge of this division of the railway mail service, and the latter has promised to report on the prospect within the next two weeks. It is the stand of the government that the two pouches across the river, one up at 11:20 a. m. and the other down at 1:54 p. m., are sufficient and that conditions are satisfactory.
Citizens holding opinions on this subject are urged to attend the meeting Monday night that their views may be heard. Deputy Postmaster Edgar E. Oughelrose will be present to answer questions as to the present status of mail by which the bulk of the mail from this point goes by way of Albany. It is held that the local service is far below that given at Newburgh. The Chamber of Commerce is strongly in favor of an improvement.
Farms at Auction.
Marvin J. Sutton of Albany and John K. Sutton of Albany, as executors of the estate of Hiram Sutton, will offer for sale on Wednesday, March 15, at 12 o'clock noon, at court house, two farms owned by deceased. The farms are located about four miles west from the village of Marlborough and are well fenced and equipped with buildings. One farm comprises about 103 acres and the second is 53 acres in extent.

RAILROAD GRANTS A SPECIAL RATE

Governor's Night at Automobile Show Occasion of Reduced Fares and Extra Train on Ulster & Delaware—To Ask Other Railroads to Aid.
Special round trip rates at a figure approximating the one way fare are announced by the Ulster & Delaware Railroad Company for Governor's Night, which will mark the opening of the Kingston Automobile Show on Thursday evening, March 30. This concession by the railroad was given out this morning by Chamber of Commerce officials who were in receipt of a letter from General Passenger Agent N. A. Sims setting forth the low rates.
A special train will also be operated for the convenience of patrons, leaving Kingston at 10 o'clock Thursday night and going as far as Arkville. Members of the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce expressed pleasure this morning at the assistance given to the Auto Show project and Chairman Vincent A. Gorman is hopeful that other railroads entering Kingston will also give an extra train service and reduced rates for the big show.
The one day tickets which will be good returning only on the late train will be sold at the following rates from stations between Arkville and Kingston: Arkville, $1.50; Fleischmanns, $1.50; Grand Hotel Station, $1.25; Pine Hill, $1.25; Big Indian, $1.10; Shandaken, $1; Phoenicia, $1.75; Mt. Pleasant, $1.75; Cold Brook, $2.60; Ashokan, $5.50; West Hurley, $3.30.

DISTRICT MEETING OF EASTERN STAR

Members of the Eastern Star of the Kingston district held a big meeting Friday evening at Masonic Hall, Wall street, as the guests of Clinton Chapter, No. 445, of this city. District Deputy Elizabeth Frear of Ellenville paid an official visit and Assistant Grand Lecturer Lewis R. Magee of Catskill was also present. The meeting was one of the largest held in this district in some time, over one hundred and seventy-five being present. Practically every chapter in the district was represented and a general good time was had. The district deputy and assistant grand lecturer addressed the assemblage and a musical program was the feature of the evening. Elizabeth Tobey gave several violin selections and Miss Helen Freer sang a solo and furnished the music for the initiation work. Miss Freer was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses. Miss Irene Lampman, organist of the chapter, acted as accompanist. Miss Grace V. Merritt acted as grand conductress and Samuel D. Scudder acted as grand marshal. Worthy Matron Ethel Van Aken, in behalf of the members, presented the district deputy with a gift in the form of a bon bon dish, and R. E. Leighton, worthy patron, presented Assistant Grand Lecturer Magee with a gold fountain pen. Following the degree work a banquet was served and all were delighted with the work of the evening. The outlook in this district is very bright and every where new chapters are springing up and the older ones are growing larger and becoming more prosperous.

Well Its Only a "Bluff."
Editor Kingston Freeman:
A very few words in reply to the communication in your paper of last evening. As far as basketball is concerned I suggest much credit be given Mr. "So and So," as he probably knows I'm a pretty good bluffer at that, and furthermore I think the basketball fans have gotten their money's worth in both games and dances during the season. In referring to me as manager, I rather think he made a little mistake, as I am not the manager, but business manager. I think the Centrals have received plenty of credit for their victory, and as to bluffing I think that the Centrals were not treated right. Thanking you once more for your kindness, I remain yours in sports.

The Life of Moses.
At the Sunday afternoon meeting at the Y. M. C. A. "The Life of Moses" will be shown in moving pictures in five reels. The pictures show the life of Moses from the cradle in the bulrushes to when he stood on Mt. Pisgah and viewed the Promised Land. These pictures have been shown at the principal churches in New York city, taking the place of the usual evening sermon. There will be no admission and the public is cordially invited to attend the meeting, especially the ladies and children. The meeting will start at 3 o'clock.

To Give Entertainment.
The boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. are arranging to give an entertainment at the association on Tuesday, March 28, the proceeds being for the summer camp of the Y. M. C. A. The entertainment is under the direction of Miss Ethel Mutterstock.

FUNSTON FAVORS PROMPT ACTION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., March 11.—Major General Frederick Funston is expected to reach the border within 24 hours and his arrival probably will be the signal for the advance of American troops into Mexico to take Francisco Villa, dead or alive. Funston is known to be opposed to any delay that is absolutely unnecessary.
In the meantime conditions of actual warfare prevail here. The military authorities are taking into custody adherents of Villa who might try to convey to the bandit information as to the plans of the American troops. The round-up of former Villa officers and stanch supporters began shortly before midnight, when General Pablo Luna, formerly a member of Villa's bodyguard, was apprehended at the residence of General Banda.
Banda was also arrested when he protested against the removal of Luna. Y. Gomez, Isidor Luna and Caputo Loba, described as ex-officers in Villa's army, were also seized.
The military authorities moved quickly when notified that Villa spies were active here and that ammunition was being smuggled across the border to the forces which American troops are going to hunt down. Federal agents learned that 100,000 rounds of ammunition had been loaded into wagons at South El Paso and taken along the border to the west where Villa outposts have been observed.
Soldiers in automobiles were sent in pursuit of the wagons train, with orders that under no circumstances must the ammunition reach the Villistas.

General Gavira, commander of the Carranza garrison at Juarez, received word at midnight that Villa was at La Ascension, Chihuahua, with a large force of men. It was suspected that Villa was aiming to strike the railroad between Casas Grandes and Juarez with the hope of capturing 500 Mormons who had stayed at Casas Grandes when other Americans left northern Mexico.
Last night these Americans will be killed if captured by Villa no one doubts. He has proclaimed his intention of slaughtering every citizen of the United States who fall into his hands.
With Villa and his bandit raiders at La Ascension, several miles from the Northwestern railroad line, grave fears were entertained for the safety of a large number of Americans reported to be on board a train enroute to Juarez from Casas Grandes.
This train is due at Guzman, State of Chihuahua, some time this afternoon and it is believed that Villa planned to move his forces to that point, or nearby, and lay in ambush to massacre the passengers.
Telegraphic communications are reported cut and it was impossible to send a warning message.
The "Mormon special" was scheduled to leave Casas Grandes last night or early today, and Villa and his bandits had avowed their intention of attacking this train and murdering all the Mormon passengers, including the women and children.
Military authorities at Juarez were notified of Villa's movement southward towards the northwestern railroad line by General Bertram, who is in command of 300 Carranza soldiers near Palomas, State of Chihuahua. He reported that the majority of the Villa outlaws moved in the direction of La Ascension following their defeat by the 13th U. S. Cavalry at Columbus. General Bertram said that Villa was with the column which numbers approximately 2,000 men. He has not taken his entire command but has left a number of small groups along the border between Juarez and La Palomas. Several of these bandits have continuing their raids on American ranches and horses on the American side of the frontier, driving off livestock and burning the buildings.
When Villa recently passed through the Mormon colonies at Colonia, he threatened to murder them if they did not leave Mexico.
Since his defeat at the hands of the U. S. Cavalry Villa has announced his intention of conducting his war on all Americans saying he will never give nor ask quarter.

According to the most reliable information received through General Carranza and other sources the train due to pass Guzman this afternoon is protected by a small military escort. A second Santa Ysabel tragedy is feared as the guard is a weak one.
Two thousand Carranza soldiers are enroute to Juarez from Chihuahua City but they will reach the border too late to entrain over the Northwestern to reach Guzman in time to save the lives of Americans on board the train.
Ten troop trains are reported coming northward over the Mexican Central lines carrying troops.
The street cars operating to Juarez were stopped last night by the company on the suggestion of General Gavira. The streets of El Paso were patrolled by a double guard of soldiers and policemen.
Brigadier General Pershing is keeping the regulars in camp at Fort Bliss. He has his men ready to meet any emergency.
It is more than likely that Villa has by this time received news of President Wilson's determination to send troops into Mexico. Villa has agents in El Paso who have been keeping him posted and it is said that if he attacks the Casas Grandes and massacres Americans he

KAISER'S SON AND PRINCESS TO WED TODAY.
Berlin, March 11.—The Kaiser's youngest and only unmarried son, Prince Joachim, today awoke a bachelor for the last time. His bride is Marie Auguste of Anhalt, most beautiful of German Princesses.
The wedding ceremonies today at the Neues Palais, Potsdam, the Imperial residence, are the simplest, as befits war time. The only guests are the parents of the bride and bridegroom, their brothers and sisters, a few other very near relatives, and a half dozen high officials. The Kaiser himself gave orders that there be no pomp or extravagance. The wedded couple will have a brief honeymoon and then the Princess must see her husband return to his post on the Russian front. Joachim, besides being a capable army officer, is noted as an athlete and horseman. He is 26 years old.
The Princess is the oldest daughter of Prince George of Anhalt and a niece of the reigning Duke Frederick II of Anhalt-Dessau. She will not be 18 years old until June 10 next.
This is, according to general belief, a romantic match. The young folks fell in love at first sight before the war began. The sanction of the parents was readily secured, but the war and the youth of the bride have delayed the ceremony.

will then retire southward to the Galena district, his old haunt.
Villa was rearer in the mountains of this district and knows every foot of the ground. Even the Mexican rurales were unable to find him during the early days of his bandit career when he was being sought by the troops of President Porfirio Diaz. It will be a difficult matter for the United States troops to run him down in a short period of time should he succeed in getting deep into the mountains with his men.

Before evacuating Chihuahua Villa sent a large number of guns and much ammunition into the mountains of the Galena district to be used in an emergency. In doing so he was believed at the time to be preparing for an eventual return to be defeated by General Obregon's Carranza army.
In all probability when United States soldiers invade Mexico they will be guided by a number of Americans who are familiar with every foot of ground in Chihuahua. They are mining men and ranchers who have volunteered their services as scouts.
Reports were received here that the war department plans complete entrance into Mexico at Juarez, Columbus and Agua Prieta. Three regiments—cavalry, infantry and field artillery—will entrain here, it is said, cross the Rio Grande and proceed over the Mexico and Northwestern railway to Casas Grandes. There they will join Carranza troops and work north toward the border. At the same time a column entering Mexico at Agua Prieta will proceed eastward and a column from Columbus will move from the north and east.

The police have suppressed La Constitucion, a Mexican newspaper which printed an editorial lauding Villa for his attack on Columbus.
They also arrested Anastasio Esperez in whose possession was found a detailed map of El Paso, Juarez and the vicinity of the railway lines running southward to Tampico and Vera Cruz.
Are In Poughkeepsie Today.
This morning Physical Director L. C. Godfrey of the Y. M. C. A. and several of the best swimmers among the boys of the association left for Poughkeepsie where they will hold a swimming meet with the boys of the Poughkeepsie Y. M. C. A. The last swimming meet which was held in Kingston was won by the local boys, who expected to repeated the feat today.

That Wretched Mail Service.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 11.—The Post Office Department which at the request of Congressman Ward is inquiring into the situation of the poor mail service across the Hudson at Kingston has as yet not made its report in the matter but it is expected to be received at the congressman's office any day now.

New State Army for Yonkers.
The Kelly Construction Company of Yonkers has been awarded the contract for the construction of a state army at Yonkers, bidding $74,707. George T. Kelly, who built the Kingston high school, submitted a bid of $55,777.

School Pupils' Gardens.
The pupils of School No. 2 are already planning for their garden planting and have purchased flower and vegetable seeds to the amount of $12.50. These packets, which are sold at one cent each, are indicative of the keen interest of the pupils in their gardens.

Manhattan Line Reported Sold.
Rumors current in Albany report the purchase of the Manhattan line by the Hudson Navigation Company, but they could not be confirmed.

AMPLE FORCE PROTECTS COLUMBUS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Columbus, N. M., March 11.—Fear that Venustiano Carranza, head of the de facto Mexican government, would oppose the invasion of Mexico by American troops pursuing General Francisco Villa and the bandits who attacked Columbus Thursday morning, were lessened today by reports that Carranza had pledged his cooperation in the military operations that have as their aim the complete crushing of the Villistas.
Advices reaching United States military officers early in the day were to the effect that Carranza had last night transmitted to the Washington government a message expressing his regrets over the fact that Americans had been killed and at the same time stating that the de facto Mexican government and the military forces at its command would do all in its power to stamp out the bandits.
Alarms have been frequent along the border during the 48 hours that have passed since Villa's attack on Columbus, but up to the present time no information has been received as to the killing of any more American citizens. A dispatch from Bisbee, Ariz., late last night carried a rumor that an American had been killed on a ranch near Osborn Junction, Ariz., but this was denied in a message that came from Douglas early today.
This message stated that Mexican soldiers, wearing Carranza uniforms, had attempted to steal some cattle near Osborn Junction, but had not injured any Americans.
Tension that had been felt here over Thursday's raid owing to reiterated reports that Villa was again marching on Columbus, determined to destroy the American soldiers here and complete the destruction of the town, was relieved when three companies of the Twentieth U. S. Infantry detrained at midnight. There are now three troops of cavalry and three infantry companies at Columbus.

Columbus mourned its dead today, all business being suspended for the funeral services over the bodies of the seventeen Americans killed by the Villa raiders. Arrangements were made for a military escort to conduct to the train the bodies of the American soldiers sent east for burial.

BILLY FOUND THE DOG WAS DEAD

Lit a Match to See in the "Gascuator" and the Rest of the Tale is Thrilling.
"Billy" Scott, the colored night janitor at the city hall, lit a match to see if the dog was dead, and as a result he was blown up in the gas explosion that followed and badly burned about the face and arm Friday evening about 10 o'clock. This morning "Billy" was on the job with his face covered with white salve and his injured arm bound up tightly with bandages.
Friday night a dog was brought to the hall to be gascuated and "Billy" placed him in the gas box at the rear of the hall and then turned on the gas. About five minutes later "Billy" decided to investigate and see if the dog was dead. He turned off the gas in the city hall and then went outside and struck a match with one hand he opened the door of the box with the other and reached in with the lighted match.
The terrific explosion that followed blew "Billy" about ten feet through the air while the large heavy door on the gas box was blown from the hinges. The burst of flame that followed the explosion burned "Billy" about the face and singed his eyelashes. Fortunately his eyes were not burned. The hand that held the match was the worst burned. Dr. Quinlan attended to "Billy's" injuries.

When questioned about the explosion this morning "Billy" said that his last words as he was hurled in the air were "Goodbye John," a favorite expression of his whenever anything goes wrong. He said that he did not mind giving an imitation of a Zeppelin if he had not been so severely burned as he has been forced to call up his lady friend and cancel an engagement for Sunday as he was "afraid" his Marie would not recognize him with all that white salve on his face.
"Was the dog dead?" asked an interested listener to "Billy's" tale of how it happened.
"Man," said "Billy," "that there dog had been enjoying himself in dog heaven fully two minutes before I made an investigation."

Metric System Charts.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 11.—Congressman Ward will soon send out to the school teachers of the district a copy of the International Metric System Charts issued by the Bureau of Standards, Department of Commerce. An instance of the way Congressman Ward is on the job, in the letter he sends to the teachers informing them of sending them the charts he says: "I am anxious that the people of the 27th Congressional District shall have all the advantages which our government offers the people, and trust that you will not hesitate to call upon me for data concerning any particular subject in which you are interested."

POULTRY FARM AT ROSENDALE SOLD

Mrs. Sarah E. Minturn of lower Main street, Rosendale, has sold through her broker, I. Paradies, of Kingston her residence and poultry farm in that village to Harry Weep of New York city. The property consists of a large 15 room dwelling with all modern improvements and one of the finest equipped poultry establishments in Ulster county. Mr. Weep intends to enlarge the house shortly and convert it into an all-season boarding house. Mr. Weep has taken a course in poultry raising and with the assistance of Charles Minturn will continue the poultry raising feature.
Mr. Paradies who made the sale has been very successful during the past year in selling farms in and about Rosendale and has brought many new families to that neighborhood. He has sold a number of poultry farms and boarding house properties and at present is looking for a tract of about 500 acres for a boarding school for young ladies.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, March 11.—There was active trading in the stock market this morning but price movements were comparatively narrow. At the start the demand was brisk with fractional advances in many issues, but realizing caused quick recessions and the greater part of the gains were lost. Southern Pacific opened $\frac{1}{2}$ higher at 99 $\frac{1}{2}$ and reacted to 99. American Zinc, after rising a point to 88 $\frac{1}{2}$, fell to 87 $\frac{1}{2}$. Similar upturns followed by reactions were noted in Baldwin, American Zinc and Butte and Superior, Crucible Steel and Marine preferred. Steel Common was firm, gaining $\frac{1}{4}$ to 84 $\frac{1}{2}$. The same amount of upturn was made in Utah Copper and St. Paul.

The market closed weak. New York Central and Reading recovered all their early losses in the late trading and showed little net change at the end. Anaconda in free supply, declining $\frac{1}{2}$ to 86 $\frac{1}{2}$, and there was evidence of profit taking in American Zinc and Butte and Superior, both declining about a point. Mexican Petroleum declined $\frac{1}{2}$ to 103 $\frac{1}{2}$. Government bonds unchanged; other bonds irregular.

CARRANZA TROOPS NEAR COLUMBUS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Columbus, N. M., March 11.—Six hundred Carranza troops from Casas Grandes and Juarez reached Palomas, eight miles from the border, south of here, today.

Americans here are wondering whether the de facto government's soldiers have come to co-operate with the United States troops in the campaign against Villa in this vicinity or to oppose the entry of American soldiers, or whether the Carranzistas will cross the border into the United States if that becomes necessary in order to run down Villa and his bandit bands.

EXAMINATION FOR ANNAPOLIS

Washington, March 11.—As was previously stated in The Freeman Congressman Charles B. Ward will hold a competitive examination for the young men of his district who desire to go to the naval academy at Annapolis instead of making an appointment. It has now been definitely decided that the examination will be held at Kingston, Wednesday, March 22, at nine o'clock a. m. The one receiving the highest average in this examination will be given the opportunity of entering the naval academy provided he passes satisfactorily the entrance examinations to the academy which will be held on April 15th. The examination at Kingston will be under the supervision of the civil service and will probably be held in the post office building.

Of the eight candidates who have made application for admission to the examination, four are from Clifton county.

ASK IMPROVEMENT IN MAIL SERVICE

Chamber of Commerce's Effort Now Before Post Office Department Officials—Citizens Asked For Views at Monday Night's Meeting.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will hold their monthly meeting on Monday night at the common council chambers, city hall, the session having been adjourned one week because of the transportation banquet. DISTRICT MEETING OF EASTERN STAR

Members of the Eastern Star of the Kingston district held a big meeting Friday evening at Masonic Hall, Wall street, as the guests of Clinton Chapter, No. 445, of this city. District Deputy Elizabeth Frear of Ellenville paid an official visit and Assistant Grand Lecturer Lewis R. Magee of Catskill was also present. The meeting was one of the largest held in this district in some time, over one hundred and seventy-five being present. Practically every chapter in the district was represented and a general good time was had. The district deputy and assistant grand lecturer addressed the assemblage and a musical program was the feature of the evening. Elizabeth Tobey gave several violin selections and Miss Helen Freer sang a solo and furnished the music for the initiation work. Miss Freer was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

Miss Irene Lampman, organist of the chapter, acted as accompanist. Miss Grace V. Merritt acted as grand conductress and Samuel D. Scudder acted as grand marshal. Worthy Matron Ethel Van Aken, in behalf of the members, presented the district deputy with a gift in the form of a bon bon dish and R. E. Lightfoot, worthy patron, presented Assistant Grand Lecturer Magee with a gold fountain pen. Following the degree work a banquet was served and all were delighted with the work of the evening. The outlook for this district is very bright and everywhere new chapters are springing up and the older ones are growing larger and becoming more prosperous.

Well It's Only a "Bluff."

Editor Kingston Freeman:
A very few words in reply to the communication in your paper of last evening. As far as basketball is concerned Mr. "So and So" as he is known, I am a pretty good bluffer at that, and furthermore I think the basketball fans have gotten their money's worth in both games and dances during the season. In referring to me as manager, I rather think he made a little mistake, as I am not the manager, but business manager. I think the Centrals have received plenty of credit for their victory, and as to bluffing I think that the Centrals were not treated right. Thanking you once more for your kindness, I remain yours in sport.

LEO E. WEBER,
Business Manager
Holy Cross team.

The Life of Moses.
At the Sunday afternoon meeting at the Y. M. C. A. "The Life of Moses" will be shown in moving pictures in five reels. The pictures show the life of Moses from the cradle in the bulrushes to when he stood on Mt. Pisgah and viewed the Promised Land. These pictures have been shown at the principal churches in New York city, taking the place of the usual evening sermon. The will be no admission and the public is cordially invited to attend the meeting, especially the ladies and children. The meeting will start at 3 o'clock.

To Give Entertainment.

The boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. are arranging to give an entertainment at the association on Tuesday, March 23, the proceeds being sent for the summer camp of the Y. M. C. A. The entertainment is under the direction of Miss Ethel Mauter.

FUNSTON FAVORS PROMPT ACTION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., March 11.—Major General Frederick Funston is expected to reach the border within 24 hours and his arrival probably will be the signal for the advance of American troops into Mexico to take Francisco Villa, dead or alive. Funston is known to be opposed to any delay that is absolutely unnecessary.

In the meantime conditions of actual warfare prevail here. The military authorities are taking into custody adherents of Villa who might try to convey to the bandit information as to the plans of the American troops. The round-up of former Villa officers and staunch supporters began shortly before midnight, when General Pablo Luna, formerly a member of Villa's bodyguard, was apprehended at the residence of General Banda.

Banda was also arrested when he protested against the removal of Luna. Y. Gomez, Isidor Luna and Canuto Loba, described as ex-officers in Villa's army, were also seized. The military authorities moved quickly when notified that Villa spies were active here and that ammunition was being smuggled across the border to the forces which American troops are going to hunt down. Federal agents learned that 100,000 rounds of ammunition had been loaded into wagons at South El Paso and taken along the border to the west where Villa outposts have been observed.

Soldiers in automobiles were sent in pursuit of the wagons train, with orders that under no circumstances must the ammunition reach the Villistas.

General Gavira, commander of the Carranza garrison at Juarez, received word at midnight that Villa was at La Ascension, Chihuahua, with a large force of men. It was suspected that Villa was aiming to strike the railroad between Casas Grandes and Juarez with the hope of capturing 500 Mormons who had stayed at Casas Grandes when other Americans left northern Mexico.

At least these Americans will be killed if captured by Villa no one doubts. He has proclaimed his intention of slaughtering every citizen of the United States who fall into his hands.

With Villa and his bandit raiders at La Ascension, several miles from the southwestern railroad line, grave fears were entertained for the safety of a large number of Americans reported to be on board a train enroute to Juarez from Casas Grandes.

This train is due at Guzman, State of Chihuahua, some time this afternoon and it is believed that Villa planned to move his forces to that point, or nearby, and lay in ambush to massacre the passengers. Telegraphic communications are reported cut and it was impossible to send a warning message. The "Mormon special" was scheduled to leave Casas Grandes last night or early today, and Villa and his bandits had avowed their intention of attacking this train and murdering the Mormon passengers, including the women and children.

Military authorities at Juarez were notified of Villa's movement southward towards the northwestern railroad line by General Bertrand, who is in command of 300 Carranza soldiers near Palomas, State of Chihuahua. He reported that the majority of the Villa outlaws moved in the direction of La Ascension following their defeat by the 13th U. S. Cavalry at Columbus. General Bertrand said that Villa was with the column which numbers approximately 2,000 men. He has not taken his entire command, but has left a number of small groups along the border between Juarez and LaPalomas. Several of these bandits have continued their raids on American ranch horses on the American side of the frontier, driving off livestock and burning the buildings.

When Villa recently passed through the Mormon colonies at Colonia, he threatened to murder them if they did not leave Mexico. Since his defeat at the hands of the U. S. cavalry Villa has announced his intention of conducting a war on all Americans saying he will never give nor ask quarter.

According to the most reliable information received through General Carranza and other sources the train due to pass Guzman this afternoon is protected by a small military escort. A second Santa Isabel train, which is feared as the guard is a weak one.

Two thousand Carranza soldiers are enroute to Juarez from Chihuahua City but they will reach the border too late to entrain over the Northwestern to reach Guzman in time to save the lives of Americans on board the train.

Ten troop trains are reported coming northward over the Mexican Central lines carrying troops from the street cars operating to Juarez were stopped last night by the company on the suggestion of General Gavira. The streets of El Paso were patrolled by a double guard of soldiers and policemen.

Brigadier General Pershing is keeping the regulars in camp at Fort Bliss. He has his men ready to meet any emergency. It is more than likely that Villa has by this time received news of President Wilson's determination to send troops into Mexico. Villa has agents in El Paso who have been keeping him posted and it is said that if he attacks the Casas Grandes trains and massacres Americans he but they could not be confirmed.

Manhattan Line Reported Sold.

Rumors current in Albany report the purchase of the Manhattan line by the Hudson Navigation Company, but they could not be confirmed.

KAISER'S SON AND PRINCESS TO WED TODAY.

Berlin, March 11.—The Kaiser's youngest and only unmarried son, Prince Joachim, today awoke a bachelor for the last time. His bride is Marie Auguste of Anhalt, most beautiful of German Princesses.

The wedding ceremonies today at the Neues Palais, Potsdam, the Imperial residence, are the simplest, as belies war time. The only guests are the parents of the bride and bridegroom, their brothers and sisters, a few other very near relatives, and a half dozen high officials. The Kaiser himself gave orders that there be no pomp or extravagance. The wedded couple will have a brief honeymoon and then the Princess must see her husband return to his post on the Russian front, Joachim, besides being a capable army officer, is noted as an athlete and horseman. He is 26 years old.

The Princess is the oldest daughter of Prince George of Anhalt and a niece of the reigning Duke Frederick II of Anhalt-Dessau. She will not be 18 years old until June 10 next.

This is, according to general belief, a romantic match. The young folks fell in love at first sight before the war began. The sanction of the parents was readily secured, but the war and the youth of the bride have delayed the ceremony.

Will then retire southward to the Galena district, his old haunt.

Villa was reared in the mountains of this district and knows every foot of the ground. Even the Mexican rurales were unable to find him during the early days of his bandit career when he was being sought by the troops of President Porfirio Diaz. It will be a difficult matter for the United States troops to run him down in a short period of time, should he succeed in getting deep into the mountains with his men.

Before evacuating Chihuahua Villa sent a large number of guns and much ammunition into the mountains of the Galena district to be used in an emergency. In doing so he was believed at the time to be preparing for an eventuality should he be defeated by General Obregon's Carranza army.

In all probability when United States soldiers invade Mexico they will be guided by a number of Americans who are familiar with every foot of ground in Chihuahua. They are mining men and ranchers who have volunteered their services as scouts.

Reports were received here that the war department plans to contemplate entrance into Mexico at Juarez, Columbus and Agua Prieta. Three regiments—cavalry, infantry and field artillery—will entrain here, it is said, across the Rio Grande and proceed over the Mexico and North-eastern railway to Casas Grandes. There they will join Carranza troops and work north toward the border. At the same time a column entering Mexico at Agua Prieta will proceed eastward and a column from Columbus will move from the north and east.

The police have suppressed La Constitucion, a Mexican newspaper which printed an editorial lauding Villa for his attack on Columbus. They also arrested Anastasio Esperez in whose possession was found a detailed map of El Paso, Juarez and the vicinity of the railway lines running southward to Tampico and Vera Cruz.

Are In Poughkeepsie Today.

This morning Physical Director L. C. Godfrey of the Y. M. C. A. and several of the best swimmers among the boys of the association left for Poughkeepsie where they will hold a swimming meet with the boys of the Poughkeepsie Y. M. C. A. The last swimming meet which was held in Kingston was won by the local boys, who expected to repeated the feat today.

That Wretched Mail Service.

Washington, March 11.—The Post Office Department which at the request of Congressman Ward is inquiring into the situation of the poor mail service across the Hudson at Kingston has as yet not made its report in the matter but it is expected to be received at the congressman's office any day now.

New State Armory For Tonkers.

The Kelly Construction Company of Tonkers has been awarded the contract for the construction of a state armory at Tonkers, bidding $74,797. George T. Kelly, who built the Kingston high school, submitted a bid of $55,777.

School Pupils' Gardens.

The pupils of School No. 2 are already planning for their garden planting and have purchased flower and vegetable seeds to the amount of $12.50. These packets, which are sold at one cent each, are indicative of the keen interest of the pupils in their gardens.

AMPLE FORCE PROTECTS COLUMBUS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Columbus, N. M., March 11.—Fear that Venustiano Carranza, head of the de facto Mexican government, would oppose the invasion of Mexico by American troops pursuing General Francisco Villa and the bandits who attacked Columbus Thursday morning, were lessened today by reports that Carranza had pledged his co-operation in the military operations that have as their aim the complete crushing of the Villistas.

Advices reaching United States military officers early in the day were to the effect that Carranza had last night transmitted to the Washington government a message expressing his regrets over the fact that Americans had been killed and at the same time stating that the de facto Mexican government and the military forces at its command would do all in its power to stamp out the bandits.

Alarms have been frequent along the border during the 48 hours that have passed since Villa's attack on Columbus, but up to the present time no information has been received as to the killing of any more American citizens. A dispatch from Bisbee, Ariz., late last night carried a rumor that an American had been killed on a ranch near Osborn Junction, Ariz., but this was denied in a message that came from Douglas early today.

This message stated that Mexican soldiers, wearing Carranza uniforms, had attempted to steal some cattle near Osborn Junction, but had not injured any Americans. Tension that had been felt here over Thursday's raid owing to reiterated reports that Villa was again marching on Columbus, determined to destroy the American soldiers here and complete the destruction of the town, was relieved when three companies of the Twentieth U. S. Infantry detrained at midnight. There were three troops of cavalry and three infantry companies at Columbus.

Columbus mourned its dead today, all business being suspended for funeral services over the bodies of the seventeen Americans killed by the Villa's raiders. Arrangements were made for a military escort to conduct to the train the bodies of the American soldiers sent east for burial.

The market closed weak. New York Central and Reading recovered all their early losses in the late trading, and showed little net change at the end. Annapolis was in sharp decline, falling 3/4 to 38 1/2 and there was evidence of profit taking in American Zinc and Butte and Superior, both declining about a point. Mexican Petroleum declined 1/2 to 103 1/2. Government bonds unchanged; other bonds irregular.

BILLY FOUND THE DOG WAS DEAD

Lit a Match to See in the "Gasocutor" and the Rest of the Tale is Thrilling.

"Billy" Scott, the colored night janitor at the city hall, lit a match to see if the dog was dead, and as a result he was blown up in the gas explosion that followed and badly burned about the face and arm Friday evening about 10 o'clock. This morning "Billy" was on the job with his face covered with white salve and his injured arm bound up tightly with bandages.

Friday night a dog was brought to the hall to be gascuted and "Billy" placed him in the gas box at the rear of the hall and then turned on the gas. About five minutes later "Billy" decided to investigate and see if the dog was dead. He turned off the gas in the city hall and then went outside and striking a match with one hand he opened the door of the box with the other and reached in with the lighted match.

The terrific explosion that followed blew "Billy" about ten feet through the air while the large heavy door on the gas box was blown from the hinges. The burst of flame that followed the explosion burned "Billy" about the face and singed his eyelashes. Fortunately his eyes were not burned. The hand that held the match was the worst burned. Dr. Quinlan attended to "Billy's" injuries.

When questioned about the explosion this morning "Billy" said that his last words as he was hurled in the air were "Goodbye John," a favorite expression of his whenever anything goes wrong. He said that he did not mind giving an imitation of a Zeppelin if he had not been so severely burned as he has been forced to call up his lady friend and cancel an engagement for Sunday as he was "afraid" his Marie would not recognize him with all that white salve on his face.

"Was the dog dead?" asked an interested listener to "Billy's" tale of how it happened.

"Man," said "Billy," "that there dog had been enjoying himself in dog heaven fully two minutes before I made an investigation."

Metric System Charts.

Washington, March 11.—Congressman Ward will soon send out to the school teachers of the district a copy of the International Metric System Charts issued by the Bureau of Standards, Department of Commerce. An instance of the way Congressman Ward is on the job, in the letter he sends to the teachers informing them of sending them the charts he says: "I am anxious that the people of the 27th Congressional District shall have all the advantages which our government offers the people, and trust that you will not hesitate to call upon me for data subject concerning any particular subject Friday morning by inhaling illuminating gas."

POULTRY FARM AT ROSENDALE SOLD

Mrs. Sarah E. Minturn of lower Main street, Rosendale, has sold through her broker, I. Paradies, of Kingston her residence and poultry farm in that village to Harry Wesp of New York city. The property consists of a large 15 room dwelling with all modern improvements and one of the finest equipped poultry establishments in Ulster county. Mr. Wesp intends to enlarge the house shortly and convert it into an all-season boarding house. Mr. Wesp has taken a course in poultry raising and with the assistance of Charles Minturn will continue the poultry raising feature.

Mr. Paradies who made the sale has been very successful during the past year in selling farms in and about Rosendale and has brought many new families to that neighborhood. He has sold a number of poultry farms and boarding house properties and at present is looking for a tract of about 500 acres for a boarding school for young ladies.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 11.—There was active trading in the stock market this morning but price movements were comparatively narrow. At the start the demand was brisk with fractional advances in many issues, but realizing caused quick reactions and the greater part of the gains were lost. Southern Pacific opened 3/4 higher at 99 1/4 and reacted to 99. American Zinc, after rising a point to 88 1/2, fell to 87 1/2. Similar upturns followed by reactions were noted in Baldwin Locomotive, Butte and Superior, Crucible Steel and Marine preferred. Steel Common was firm, gaining 1/4 to 54 1/4. The same amount of upturn was made in Utah Copper and St. Paul.

The market closed weak. New York Central and Reading recovered all their early losses in the late trading, and showed little net change at the end. Annapolis was in sharp decline, falling 3/4 to 38 1/2 and there was evidence of profit taking in American Zinc and Butte and Superior, both declining about a point. Mexican Petroleum declined 1/2 to 103 1/2. Government bonds unchanged; other bonds irregular.

The KITCHEN CABINET

It matters little where I was born, or if my parents were rich or poor; but whether I live an honest man and hold my integrity dear in my clutch, I tell you, my brother, as plain as I can—it matters much.—Emerson.

ORDINARY DISHES.

It is not so much the kind of food one prepares as the way it is prepared and the daintiness of its serving which is important.

Oatmeal Scones.—To one cupful of well-cooked oatmeal porridge add one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of melted butter, one teaspoonful of brown sugar and a little salt. Mix these ingredients well. Sift two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, with one cupful of flour and stir in the mixture, adding flour to make the dough stiff enough to handle. Roll out half an inch thick, cut with a sharp biscuit cutter and bake a delicate brown on a hot buttered griddle.

Honey Cakes.—Beat to a cream a half cupful of strained honey. Stir in two cupfuls of flour, sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half cupful of chopped filberts. Let this mixture stand over night to become thoroughly cold, but do not freeze. Roll out very thin and cut in fancy shapes, sprinkle with nuts.

Danish Jelly.—Cut a bunch of fresh rhubarb into inch pieces and put into a baking dish, sprinkle with a cupful of granulated sugar and a cupful of boiling water. Cook until the sirup is thick. Squeeze over the fruit the juice of half a lemon and remove from the fire. Then add enough bread-crumbs to absorb the sirup and turn into a mold to harden. Turn out on a chop plate or platter and surround with whipped sweetened cream.

A simple dessert, and one well liked by everybody, is a pastry shell baked, then filled with any kind of fruit, covered with whipped cream and served at once before the crust is soaked if the fruit is juicy.

Nut Bread.—Mix together two cupfuls of graham flour, one cupful of white flour, one tablespoonful of brown sugar, one-half cupful of broken nut meats, one-half cupful of raisins and dates, mixed and finely cut. When well mixed, add two tablespoonfuls of molasses, one teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in a tablespoonful of hot water, and a cupful and a half of sour milk. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, March 10.—There will be a box social in the Samsonville Hall on Wednesday evening, March 22. If stormy next fair evening. All the ladies are requested to bring a box of good things to eat, which will be sold at auction to the highest bidder. Coffee will be served free. Other refreshments will be on sale. Every one invited. Proceeds for the benefit of the church.

There was a large attendance at the auction of Michael Riley Tuesday, March 7.

Sunday, March 19, will be the last chance to hear Rev. Mr. Braunstein before conference. The church is nice, the preaching good, many have a long distance to come, and it does seem a pity not to have word to burn in the new stove. One cannot expect to heat the room without fire. However, the weather may be warmer, or something else may happen, so that it will be comfortable on that date, anyway, come and see and bring your friends, if any are visiting you.

THE CLOVE.

The Clove, March 11.—Miss Kathryn A. Deane of Kingston is visiting her home here for a couple of weeks. Sanford Bush of the Traps passed through this place one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. Anery Cornell of Accord called on Mr. and Mrs. Alva Bell on Sunday.

Mr. Mac McCormick has a sick horse.

George Winegart of Berlin, N. Y., was in this place on Sunday.

There will be service in the chapel on Sunday evening, March 12. The Rev. Mr. Dankremond will preach. Earl Stokes is working for Lorin Coddington.

READY TO BUILD BRIDGE

THE COMING SUMMER

Complete Plans For the Rondout Creek Bridge Have Arrived—Roadbed 22 Feet Wide, With Sidewalk and Ornamental Parapet—Curved Approaches from Abeel Street.

Final and complete plans for the construction of the Kingston-Port Ewen bridge were received by County Superintendent Loughran this morning. The plans received are complete and are those which will be submitted to the contractors in the spring and there is every reason to believe that work will be started on the construction of the bridge the coming summer. The proposition is a big one and it will take some time to erect the bridge after the work is started. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $250,000.

The plans as approved by the state department call for a structure similar to the Hell Gate bridge at New York. There will be three main piers, one on the Rondout side, one on the island dock and one on the Port Ewen side of the creek. Beside these there will be several lesser piers supporting the approaches of the bridge. The main structure will comprise two steel arches with a concrete roadbed. One arch spanning the main channel and the second arch the island dock, the canal and the railroad tracks. The two approaches will be of concrete and will form abutments or anchors for the steel spans.

The clearance width of the main arch will be 200 feet while the clearance height will be 85 feet at the island dock at average high tide and the clearance will be a few inches more in the middle of the channel. The roadbed proper will be of concrete 22 feet in width with 3 inch granite pavement blocks on top of the concrete bed or base. The roadway will be lighted with adequate ornamental lighting standards. A sidewalk on the lower, or river side 56 inches in width will cross the bridge. Along the sides will be an ornamental parapet or wall constructed with open panel work with the main panels of wire cut brick. This will give the bridge a very pleasing appearance and will be a decided decoration.

The grade will be slightly less than 4 per cent and will rise toward the Port Ewen side of the bridge. The Abeel street side of the bridge will have curved approaches which will make the grade to the bridge accessible both from Broadway and Abeel street. The curves will be long and graceful and present a very beautiful appearance at the entrance.

The road approach from the Port Ewen side will be 16 feet in width of bituminous macadam and will join the present highway about half way over the flat below the school house. The entire right of way on the Port Ewen side will be over the Hasbrouck estate.

The time for advertising bids is about a month and when bids have been advertised for and the contract let it is probable that work will immediately commence perhaps this summer.

The present plans are slightly different from those formerly prepared and the steel archway is something which did not appear in former plans.

Tots Took the Cake.

The masquerade dance of the United Social Club on Thursday evening was largely attended. All present had a very enjoyable time. The prize which was to be given to the most comically dressed couple, was a large cake made by Baker Charles Spill and was given to two little tots of boys, about seven years of age, who were dressed as man and woman, leading the grand march. The orchestra furnished music, and also thank those who took part in playing the piano.

BOY SCOUT TROOPS PREPARE TO PARADE

Fifty boy scouts comprising the three troops in Kingston were put through practice in drilling last night at the armory by Sergeant Charles Dixon of Company M in preparation for their parade during Governor Whitman's visit at the auto show. Most of the boys were in uniform and quickly learned the steps as taught by their instructor to whom they are most grateful for his kindness. Sergeant Dixon was assisted by three scoutmasters, Harry Evory of Troop No. 1, Edward Geschwinder of Troop No. 2, and Munroe Burger of Troop No. 3, who in turn were aided by their assistant scoutmasters.

This was the first union meeting of the three troops and was a most successful, the youths being eager to learn the military steps as taught by a member of Company M. Several members of Company M were present to witness the drill and expressed approval of the marching. The boy scout organization is not for the purpose of instilling the military spirit in the youths but for the purpose of teaching the secrets of nature and making them better acquainted with the beauties of Dame Nature. Marching and drilling tends to make them erect and give them pride in their bearing. That Governor Whitman will be more than pleased to see the scouts in the line of his parade, there is little doubt.

The increase in the ranks of the local scouts requires that more troops be formed to prevent the overcrowding of the present ones and the only hindrance at present is the lack of men in contact with boys and in union with the scout movement. Men teachers in the Sunday Schools of the city or men of good character in contact with youths in factories are needed to carry on this work to educate the future citizens of our country. It is the desire of the scout founders to take the boys to the big outdoors, into God's country, there to make their minds pure and bodies sound. No movement for preparedness could be more effective.

If there are such men in the city who wish to spend a few hours each week in this good work, they are welcome to a meeting of all scouts and men interested in the work, at the Kingston Masonic Lodge rooms in the Ulster County Savings Bank building on Wall street Thursday evening, March 16, at 7:30, when plans will be made for establishing more troops. Many of the most distinguished citizens of the city are members of the scout council which rules the local organization.

Fish and Game Association.

The annual meeting of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association was held Friday night at the office of Ward B. Everett and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Elva H. Bogart, president; Franklin Tobey, Jr., vice president; Carlton S. Preston, secretary; Roswell C. Coles, treasurer. A number of applications for membership were acted on and reports of officers and members gave every indication that the association will continue to grow during the ensuing year. Senator Charles W. Walton was present and explained in detail the bills prepared jointly by the State Conservation Commission and the chairmen of the Senate and Assembly Conservation Committees. The association expressed its entire approval and satisfaction with the bills.

His Vision of Beauty.

Is anything more beautiful, asks a New York World correspondent, than a bend of the river disappearing between green forest banks when the little, noiseless, rippling wake of a muskrat as it widens behind his nose in the mirror still water is the only sign that anything can possibly move in a thousand years?

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. George D. Beckwith was the hostess at a delightful thimble party, given at her home on West Chesnut street on Thursday afternoon. Delicious refreshments were served, the table being most attractive with its centerpiece of pink sweet peas.

A special meeting of the Monday Afternoon Auction Bridge Club was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Sara Thompson, on President's Place. The prize was won by Mrs. Samuel Watts. During the afternoon, the guests partook of a fine repast.

A birthday surprise party was given Mrs. Eva Wood at her home, 161 Tremper avenue, Friday evening. The event was the celebration of Mrs. Wood's birthday. Games were played and a very social and pleasant evening was spent. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss Ola N. Short, and the table was beautifully decorated with pinks and smilax. A large birthday cake formed the center piece and Mrs. Wood was the recipient of many useful and ornamental presents. Covers were laid for 12.

Re-Shulitis.

Thomas Re of No. 644 Broadway and Miss Sarah C. Shulitis of No. 122 Fair street, were quietly married in Saugerties on February 21, by the Rev. J. M. Cornish.

Sickler-Burhans.

At Trinity M. E. parsonage, on Friday, March 10th, Miss Gertrude Burhans of Sleightsbush and Charles Lester Sickler of Ponckhockie street, were married. The Rev. George E. Barber performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sickler will make their home in this city.

Nelson-Thiell.

Miss Josephine Thiell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thiell, of Milton, and Charles Nelson, sergeant of the National Guard of Connecticut, were married on February 24 in Bridgeport, Conn. Mr. Nelson is the son of a retired Methodist minister. Mrs. Nelson is spending a week or so with her parents. The bride was one of Milton's most popular young women, and will be greatly missed. The best wishes of this community go with this young couple on life's journey.

Iris-Cantine.

Miss Harriet T. Cantine, daughter of James Cantine, of Montgomery street, Saugerties, was united in marriage to Francis H. Ivis at the home of the bride at 12 o'clock Wednesday noon, by the Rev. J. M. Cornish. The bride was very prettily attired in a blue cloth suit and carried a beautiful bouquet of narcissus and hyacinths. After a luncheon was served the happy couple departed for a wedding trip on the 1:51 p. m. train. They have the best wishes of their many friends. The witnesses were Katherine V. Robinson and Katherine E. Cantine.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Mrs. R. T. Cameron of Walden is a week end visitor with friends in town.

Mrs. S. W. Rowe of Albany is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. J. Brady, of Smith avenue.

Miss Mildred Deyo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Deyo of Washington avenue, is on an extended stay with friends in Washington, D. C.

Miss Helen Brodhead, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. James C. Legg, of 56 Hunter street, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brodhead and her brother, Charles, in New York city, where they are boating this winter. Capt. Brodhead, who has been ill the past winter, is greatly improved in health.

The Three Londons.

Roman London lies buried about eighteen feet below the level of Chesapeake. In nearly all parts of the city there have been discovered tessellated pavements, Roman tombs, lamps, vases, sandals, keys, ornaments, weapons, coins and statues of the Roman gods.

When a little over a century ago deep sections were made for the sewers in Lombard street the lowest stratum was found to consist of tessellated pavements. Many colored dice were found lying scattered about, and above this stratum was a thick layer of wood ashes, suggesting the debris of charred wooden buildings.

While building the exchange workmen came upon a gravel pit full of oyster shells, bones of cattle, old sandals and shattered pottery. Two pavements were dug up under the French church in Threadneedle street, and other pavements have been cut through in several parts of the city. The soil seems to have risen over Roman London at the rate of nearly a foot a century. Still further must the searcher dig to find the third London, the earlier London of the Britons.—London Chronicle.

ELBERT H. GARY

STEEL TRUST CHAIRMAN INDICTED—TRIAL TO BE PUSHED.

Youngstown, O., March 11.—The Mahoning County grand jury has ended its investigation of the strike riots last January in East Youngstown by returning indictments against Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation and against six big steel companies. The indictments charge Gary, the corporation of which he is the head, one of its subsidiaries and four independent steel concerns with conspiring to fix the price of iron and steel products in Mahoning county in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law. "Judge Gary has been indicted individually," said County Prosecutor A. M. Henderson, "because the evidence laid before the grand jury tends to show that he is the director of the iron and steel industry in the United States." Mr. Henderson said the trial of Gary and the corporations would be held within a month. He added that an effort would be made then to prove that the alleged combination to fix the price of labor brought about the unrest among the laborers which resulted in the East Youngstown riots.

A Barnum Story.

A story is told of the meeting of Matthew Arnold with P. T. Barnum, the great showman, in America. Mr. Arnold when introduced said how proud he felt at making the acquaintance of a man with a worldwide reputation. "Ah, Mr. Arnold," said Barnum, "we are both public men, but the difference between you and me is that you are a notability, while I am only a notoriety."

Still Wanted.

Although the automobile has supplanted the horse to a very large extent, there are still many people who are devoted to horses and team for riding, or driving, at their country places.

So, as the time for the exodus from city to country approaches, coachmen and stable hands of all kinds should be on the lookout for appeals for such helpers in the Want Columns.

If you don't see any such appeal today, run a Want Ad. of your own offering your services and before the end of this month of March you will have a place for the summer.

CITY OF KINGSTON

CARRANZA TROOPS NEAR COLUMBUS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Columbus, N. M., March 11.—Six hundred Carranza troops from Casas Grandes and Juarez reached Palomas, eight miles from the border, south of here, today.

Americans here are wondering whether the de facto government's soldiers have come to co-operate with the United States troops in the campaign against Villa in this vicinity or to oppose the entry of American soldiers, or whether the Carranzistas will cross the border into the United States if that becomes necessary in order to run down Villa and his band.

Seven wounded men of Villa's followers who were captured by Col. H. J. Slocum's troops will be tried for murder for the killing of seven United States soldiers on Thursday.

The prisoners include a boy of 12 and two officers.
F. B. Stone, special agent of the department of justice, who announced that the murder charges would be lodged, conferred with Summers, United States attorney for New Mexico, and afterwards said that similar charges would probably be filed against Mexican prisoners in the state courts in connection with the killing of civilians during the raid.

Washington, March 11.—Secretary of State Lansing said just before noon that up to the present time he had received no official word concerning Carranza's attitude toward the American campaign against Villa. He also said that he had not notified the Pan-American diplomatic representatives who joined with this country in the recognition of Carranza of the latest developments.

EXAMINATION FOR ANNAPOLIS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 11.—As was previously stated in The Freeman, Congressman Charles B. Ward will hold a competitive examination for the young men of his district who desire to go to the naval academy at Annapolis instead of making an appointment. It has now been definitely decided that the examination will be held at Kingston, Wednesday, March 22, at nine o'clock a. m. The one receiving the highest average in this examination will be given the opportunity of entering the academy which will be held on April 15th. The examination at Kingston will be under the supervision of the civil service and will probably be held in the post office building.

Of the eight candidates who have made application for admission to the examination, four are from this county.

ASK IMPROVEMENT IN MAIL SERVICE

Chamber of Commerce's Effort Now Before Post Office Department Officials—Citizens Asked For Views at Monday Night's Meeting.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will hold their monthly meeting on Monday night at the common council chambers, city hall, the session having been adjourned one week because of the transportation banquet. Among the matters to come up at this time is the much-discussed improvement in mail service across the Hudson river to the benefit of Kingston and other river towns, and the post offices for which they are the distributing points.

Secretary James E. Canfield has been in conference with Chief Clerk Williams, in charge of this division of the railway mail service, and the latter has promised to report on the prospect within the next two weeks. It is the stand of the government that the two pouches across the river, one up at 11:20 a. m. and the other down at 1:54 p. m., are sufficient and that conditions are satisfactory.

Citizens holding opinions on this subject are urged to attend the meeting Monday night that their views may be heard. Deputy Postmaster Edgar E. Oughelrose will be present to answer questions as to the present routing of mail by which the bulk to and from this point goes by way of Albany. It is held that the local service is far below that given at Newburgh. The Chamber of Commerce is strongly in favor of an improvement.

Farms at Auction.

Marvin J. Setton of Albany and John K. Setton of Albany, as executors of the estate of John Setton, deceased, will offer for sale on Wednesday, March 15, at 12 o'clock noon, at the court house, two farms owned by the deceased. The farms are located about four miles west from the village of Marlborough and are well situated and equipped with buildings. The farm comprised about 193 acres; the second is 55 acres in extent.

RAILROAD GRANTS A SPECIAL RATE

Governor's Night of Automobiles Show Occasion of Reduced Fare and Extra Train on Ulster & Delaware—To Ask Other Railroads to Aid.

Special round trip rates at a figure approximating the one way fare are announced by the Ulster & Delaware Railroad Company for Governor's Night, which will mark the opening of the Kingston Automobile Show on Thursday evening, March 30. This concession by the railroad was given out this morning by Chamber of Commerce officials who were in receipt of a letter from General Passenger Agent N. A. Sims setting forth the low rates.

A special train will also be operated for the convenience of patrons, leaving Kingston at 10 o'clock Thursday night and going as far as Arkville. Members of the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce expressed pleasure this morning at the assistance given to the Kingston Automobile Show by Vincent A. Gorman, president and chairman of the railroad. It is hoped that other railroads entering Kingston will also give an extra train service and reduced rates for the big show.

The one day tickets which will be good returning only on the late train will be sold at the following rates from stations between Arkville and Kingston: Arkville, $1.50; Fleischmanns, $1.50; Grand Hotel Station, $1.25; Pine Hill, $1.25; Big Indian, $1.19; Shandaken, $1; Phoenicia, $1.75; Mt. Pleasant, $1.75; Cold Brook, $2.00; Ashokan, $2.50; West Hurley, $3.00.

DISTRICT MEETING OF EASTERN STAR

Members of the Eastern Star of the Kingston district held a big meeting Friday evening at Masonic Hall, Wall street, as the guests of Clinton Chapter, No. 445, of this city. District Deputy Elizabeth Fear of Ellenville paid an official visit and Assistant Grand Lecturer Lewis R. Magee of Catskill was also present. The meeting was one of some time, over one hundred and seventy-five being present. Practically every chapter in the district was represented and a general good time was had. The district deputy and assistant deputy, together with the members of the chapter, presented a program which was the feature of the evening. Elizabeth Tobey gave several vocal selections and Miss Helen Freer sang a solo and furnished the music for the initiation work. Miss Freer was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses. Miss Irene Lampan, organizer of the chapter, acted as accompanist. Miss Grace V. Merritt acted as grand conductress and Samuel D. Souder acted as grand marshal. Worthey Macon Eitel Van Alen, in behalf of the members, presented the district deputy with a gift in the form of a bon bon dish, and E. E. Leighton, worthy patron, presented the Assistant Grand Lecturer Magee with a gold fountain pen. Following the degree work a banquet was served and all were delighted with the work of the evening. The officers of this district are very bright and everywhere new chapters are springing up and the older ones are growing larger and becoming more prosperous.

We'll Its Only a "Bluff."

Editor Kingston Freeman:
A very few words in reply to the communication in your paper of last evening. As far as basketball is concerned I suggest much credit be given Mr. "So and So," as he probably knows I'm a pretty good bluffer at that, and furthermore I think the basketball fans have given their money's worth in both games and dances during the season.

FUNSTON FAVORS PROMPT ACTION

El Paso, Tex., March 11.—Major General Frederick Funston is expected to reach the border within 24 hours, and his arrival probably will be the signal for the advance of American troops into Mexico to take Francisco Villa, dead or alive. Funston is known to be opposed to any delay that is absolutely unnecessary.

In the meantime conditions of actual warfare prevail here. The military authorities are taking into custody adherents of Villa and might try to convey to the bandits information as to the plans of the American troops. The round-up of former Villa officers and such other persons began shortly before midnight, when General Funston, formerly a member of the United States army, was surrounded at the residence of General Funston.

Funston was also reported to have been surrounded by Villa's forces at Canito Lobo, described as ex-officers in Villa's army, were also seized.

The military authorities are quickly when they are made of heavy material, IN NEW POPULAR AND CHECKS. The style is up to the minute, and the finished with belt and pockets.

Soldiers in automobiles are in pursuit of the bandits. Orders that under no circumstances must the ammunition reach the Villistas.

General Gaviola, Carranza's partner in the seizure of word at the border, was at La Esperanza, Chihuahua, with a large force of men. He suspected that Villa's forces were striking the railroad and were capturing soldiers with the hope of capturing Villa's forces.

With Villa and his followers at La Esperanza, General Gaviola is reported to have been surrounded by Villa's forces.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mrs. George D. Beckwith was the hostess at a delightful thimble party, given at her home on West Chestnut street on Thursday afternoon. Delicious refreshments were served, the table being most attractive with its centerpiece of pink sweet peas.

A special meeting of the Monday Afternoon Bridge Club was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Sara Thompson, on President's Place. The prize was won by Mrs. Samuel Watts. During the afternoon, the guests partook of a fine repast.

A birthday surprise party was given Mrs. Eva Wood at her home, 161 Temperance avenue, Friday evening. The event was the celebration of Mrs. Wood's birthday. Games were played and a very social and pleasant evening was spent. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss Ola N. Short, and the table was beautifully decorated with pinks and smilax. A large birthday cake formed the center piece and Mrs. Wood was the recipient of many useful and ornamental presents. Covers were laid for 12.

Re-Shutts.
Thomas Re of No. 444 Broadway and Miss Sarah C. Shullis of No. 122 Fair street, were quietly married in Saugerties on February 21, by the Rev. J. M. Cornish.

Sickler-Barthans.
At Trinity M. E. parsonage, on Friday, March 10th, Miss Gertrude Burhan of Sleightburgh and Charles Lester Sickler of Ponckhockie street, were married. The Rev. George E. Barber performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sickler will make their home in this city.

Nelson-Thiell.
Miss Josephine Thiell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thiell, of Milton, and Charles Nelson, sergeant of the National Guard of Connecticut, were married on February 24 at Bridgeport, Conn. Mr. Nelson is the son of a retired Methodist minister. Mrs. Nelson is spending a week or so with her parents. The bride was one of Milton's most popular young women and will be greatly missed. The wedding of the couple was a very pretty affair.

Not Shopped Easily.
What I don't understand is why they call a big gun "also" when it can be shopped. —From Richmond (Va.) Public Service News.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Mrs. R. T. Cameron of Walden is a week end visitor with friends in town.

Mrs. S. W. Rowe of Albany is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. K. J. Brady, of Smith avenue.

Miss Mildred Dero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Dero of Washington avenue, is on an extended stay with friends in Washington, D. C.

Miss Helen Brodhead, who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. James C. Legg, of 50 Hunter street, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brodhead and her brother, Charles, in New York city, where they are boating this winter. Capt. Brodhead, who has been ill the past winter, is greatly improved in health.

The Three Londons.
Roman London lies buried about eighteen feet below the level of Cheap side. In nearly all parts of the city there have been discovered tessellated pavements, Roman tombs, lamps, vases, sandals, keys, ornaments, weapons, coins and statues of the Roman gods.

When a little over a century ago deep sections were made for the sewers in Lombard street the lowest stratum was found to consist of tessellated pavements. Many colored dice were found lying scattered about, and above this stratum was a thick layer of wood ashes, suggesting the debris of charred wooden buildings.

While building the exchange workmen came upon a gravel pit full of oyster shells, bones of cattle, old sandals and shattered pottery. Two pavements were dug up under the French church in Thredneedle street, and other pavements have been cut through in several parts of the city. The soil seems to have risen over Roman London at the rate of nearly a foot a century. Now further west the searchers dig to find the third London, the earlier London of the Britons.—London Chronicle.

ELBERT H. GARY.

STEEL TRUST CHAIRMAN IN DICTED—TRIAL TO BE PUSHED.

Youngstown, O., March 11.—The Mahoning County grand jury has ended its investigation of the strike riots last January in East Youngstown by returning indictments against Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation and against six big steel companies. The indictments charge Gary, the corporation of which he is the head, one of its subsidiaries and four independent steel concerns with conspiring to fix the price of iron and steel products in Mahoning county in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law.

"Judge Gary has been indicted individually," said County Prosecutor A. M. Henderson, "because the evidence laid before the grand jury tends to show that he is the director of the iron and steel industry in the United States."

Mr. Henderson said the trial of Gary and the corporations would be, will have a place for the summer.

held within a month. He added that an effort would be made then to prove that the alleged combination to fix the price of labor brought about the unrest among the laborers which resulted in the East Youngstown riots.

A Barnum Story.

A story is told of the meeting of Matthew Arnold with P. T. Barnum, the great showman in America. Mr. Arnold when introduced said how proud he felt at making the acquaintance of a man with a worldwide reputation. "Ah, Mr. Arnold," said Barnum, "we are both public men, but the difference between you and me is that you are a notability, while I am only a notoriety."

No Need of a "Front."

"That shabby looking old fellow in worth several millions."
"You surprise me. Why doesn't he wear better clothes?"
"Oh, he doesn't have to borrow any money. People come to him to borrow it."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Mixed in His History.
"Was Rome founded by Rome?" inquired a pupil of the teacher.
"No, my son," replied the wise man; "it was Julius who was found dead by Rome."—Stry Stories.

Yes, indeed.
"Th' meek may inherit th' earth, all right," murmured Uncle Ike, "but he's in luck if some one not so durned meek don't contest th' will an' git away with it."—Judge.

One of a Kind.
Disgusted Cop (at crossing) — Say, you're a peach of a driver! If you was crossing the alkali desert you'd run into a hydrant.—New York Times.

Unless you bear with the faults of a friend you betray your own.—Syms.

Still Wanted.

Although the automobile has supplanted the horse to a very large extent, there are still many people who are devoted to horses and want them for riding, or driving, at their country places.

So, as the time for the exodus from city to country approaches, coachmen and stable hands of all kinds should be on the lookout for appeals for such helpers in the Want Columns.

If you don't see any such appeal today, run a Want Ad. of your own offering your services and before the end of this month of March you Gary and the corporations would be, will have a place for the summer.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MARCH 11, 1916.

"Villa, Dead or Alive," is the ringing phrase from Washington which marks the death blow to, or possibly only another slight interruption in, "watchful waiting," or "visionary vacillation," whatever the reader has been pleased to term the administration policy with respect to Mexico. This is not the first time we have entered Mexico—but this time it appears as though the blood that runs in the scholastic veins at the White House were really up and the capture of a cut-throat border raider actually to be accomplished, regardless of any former failure, as in the matter of the salute to the flag at the Vera Cruz invasion. The nation cannot but await with anxiety the fruits of this change to the right-about in administration policy. The baptism of blood which marked the induction of the new Secretary of War into office, will test the mettle of the man in a most difficult position. Villa, the man once favored for a successor to Huerta, is now a fugitive before a punitive expedition from the nation for which he professed so ardent a friendship and which he has at last succeeded in embroiling in the internal fighting.

With the attitude of Carranza reported as unfavorable, if not hostile, toward this latest step from Washington, it looks, too, as though the first chief may yet be the last and the entire situation south of the border cleaned up to some semblance of decency and order. Plainly a move to assure the punishment of a border bandit, the expedition into Mexico is one in which important eventualities may rapidly succeed the accomplishment of its ostensible object. By such means may the administration regain some of the lost prestige entailed in its absolute failure to deal effectually with this situation in the past but whether this can be brought about without the loss of many American lives is a matter that only time can establish. The dilatory, and at times stupid, tactics employed in the furtherance of what we have been pleased to style our Mexican policy have been such as to cause the entire country to welcome activity of some sort, even should such activity assume the grave form of armed intervention.

Colonel Roosevelt says "June is a long way off." Likewise is the Colonel, at present sojourning in the British West Indies where the coffee, even unto the third or fourth cup, is probably stronger than that retailed in this climate. "It would be a mistake to nominate me unless the country has, in its mood, some think of the heroic and is ready to realize its ideals in action" is one of the cryptic utterances in this latest interview in which another significant sentence occurs: "I am not in the least interested in the political fortunes of myself or any other man." You can draw almost any inference you desire from these statements. The "unless" is promising, the "not in the least interested" non-committal. Perhaps, after all, the Colonel is having his little joke despite the seriousness of times he holds to be the equal of those which tried men's souls in this country's great wars. He wants the nation in a more heroic mood toward nations whose activities threaten our honor and peace and, the inference follows, that it must be a heroic country, indeed, that takes Roosevelt as the remedy at the present state of our foreign relations. But before the country has time to take the Colonel's statement at its face value, our troops will be over the border in Mexico and we will again be making history at the point of the bayonet.

Embargoes on freight for New England and points on the Atlantic seaboard are at an exasperating stage for shippers and the inability of the railroads to relieve the situation has resulted in some asperity being injected. The Interstate Commerce Commission has been giving consideration to the matter but what this body can do by way of accelerating the movement of exports which are at the bottom of the congestion is likewise a problem. It might reassure shippers by pointing to the fact that the shipping is insufficient to meet the demands of export cargoes now piled up in railroad terminals and warehouses at seaports. But a sweet reasonableness is not a characteristic of shippers, who, with business interests, find great hindrance and loss from the railroads' suspending service to which they feel they are entitled. Facing a condition without precedents to guide, all parties to the controversy feel themselves aggrieved at a situation over which they have no control. The Interstate Commerce Commission may be able to bring about a better feeling, although the assistance of shippers in unloading cars promptly seems the only relief in sight against a prolonged blockade.

Wilson's Go Yachting.

By Telegram to "The Freeman": Washington, March 11.—President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson are this morning aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower in the Chesapeake Bay. They boarded the vessel here last night after attending the theater and the yacht started down the Potomac at once. The president will not return to Washington until Monday morning unless some acute crisis arises in the Mexican situation. Arrangements were made before the president left to keep him constantly in touch with the Mexican situation. All dispatches received from the border will be sent by wireless to the Mayflower.

An Orange Social.

An Orange Social will be held on Tuesday evening, March 14, in the lecture room of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church. A most humorous playette, "A Love of a Bonnet," will be presented by several young women, whose talent along that line has been thoroughly proven in former appearances, especially the laughter provoking "Ladies." Aunt Jennie Hopkins and Katy Doonan. Excellent readings and vocal and instrumental music will be rendered during the evening. There will be a surprise regarding—but, that would be telling.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

Reader—"Have you any modern fiction?" Librarian—"No madam; our books-buyer has been on a six months' trip."—Judge.

"We have a man here who was making money hand over fist when the police caught him." "How was he making it?" "Porch-climbing."—Baltimore American.

"Will you start up that fireless cooker, Norah?" said the lady of the house. "Sure I will mum," replied the green girl. "Where's the matches?"—Yonkers Statesman.

First Young Thing—"I started reading 'Les Miserables' last night. It is very interesting." Second Young Thing—"Isn't it! I think it is Victor Herbert's masterpiece."—Boston Transcript.

"What is your favorite musical composition?" "Haven't picked it yet," replied Mr. Cumrox. "But I'll say right now it's going to be something my daughter doesn't try to sing or play."—Washington Star.

Always Laid Up.

Ralph Connor, the Canadian clergyman, who wrote "The Sky Pilot" and other novels, is now serving in France, whence he wrote recently to his New York publisher: "Our Canadian troops have suffered heavily. But they keep up a good heart."

"At a tea in London I met a Canadian hobbling on crutches beside a pretty countess."

"We Canadians," I said to him, "are meeting with much hospitality over here, are we not?"

"Much? Too much," he answered. "Why, I've been in hospital nearly all the time."—New York Herald.

Tact.

Senator Lodge was talking at a dinner in Washington about tact.

"I remember," he said, "a chap whose wife said to him:

"Will, why did you tell the Smithsons you married me for my voice when you know I can't sing a note?"

"Will, the tactful, answered soothingly:

"Well, my love, I had to give some reason, and that was the only one I could think of."—Washington Star.

Zeppelins or Spiders.

A story is told of a young French woman who observed with punctiliousness the wartime precautions ordered by the police.

She kept the shutters closed at night and the curtains pulled down, so that not a speck of light would escape from her apartments. But one night, when reading the newspapers, she said that she had reached the limit.

The newspapers said that if the Zeppelins came, all persons must go into the cellars. She told her friends she would not go down into the cellar.

"I do not care for the Zeppelins," she said. "It is no use asking me. I will not go down into the cellar."

"But why?" asked her friend.

"Because," she replied, "I am afraid of spiders."—New York Times.

Grateful Papa.

Miss Curley kept a private school, and one morning was interviewing a new pupil.

"What does your father do to earn his living?" the teacher asked the little girl.

"Please, ma'am," was the prompt reply, "he doesn't live with us. My mamma supports me."

"Well, then," asked the teacher, "how does your mother earn her living?"

"Why," replied the little girl in an artless manner, "she gets paid for staying away from father."—Boston Post.

Rev. Charles G. Ellis, Ph.D., pastor—Morning service at 10:30. Bible school at noon. Evening service at 7:30. The sacrament of our Lord's Supper will be administered at the morning service and new members received. In the afternoon the annual Every Member canvass will take place and all the members of the congregation are requested to remain at home until they have been called upon by the appointed visitors. A report of the canvass will be made at the evening service. At the evening service the pastor will give a balopticon lecture sermon on "The Women of the Orient." Fifty interesting views will be shown, many of them beautifully tinted, some pathetic, some tragic, as for instance, of women yoked with donkey, women coaling ships, etc. It is the purpose of the lecture to make a visit to the women of North Africa, India, Burma, China, Korea and Japan that we may see things as they are and that we may be cheered by the glimpses of work already done by Christian missionaries to lighten the load and purify the lives of oriental women.

To Chase the Chill— Burn Socony Kerosene

HERE'S nothing like a good oil heater for warming up chilly places and helping out the regular heating system in extra cold weather.

An efficient oil heater (we recommend the Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater) will give ten hours of clear, odorless heat on a gallon of kerosene. It will not smoke and it will not give off odor, so long as you are careful to fill it with reliable fuel.

The best way to make sure of always getting safe, clean, dependable fuel is to buy it by name. Say "Socony" (So-CO-ny) to the grocer's boy when he comes to take your oil can. Socony Kerosene Oil is the name of the Standard Oil Company of New York's best kerosene. It is a quality product—so much better than ordinary kerosene that it is decidedly worth asking for.

If your dealer sells genuine Socony Kerosene he will display the Socony sign in his window. Look for this sign. It is a quality sign and one of the easiest ways to recognize a reliable dealer.

We recommend the following oil burning devices as the best of their kind: New Perfection Oil Cookstoves and Water Heaters, Perfection Smokeless Oil Heaters, Rayo Lamps and Lanterns.

OUR DAILY PATTERNS.

1319—A Most Attractive Dress for House or Porch Wear—Ladies' House Dress With or Without Yoke, and With Sleeve in Either of Two Lengths.

Checked gingham in gray and white is here portrayed, with white lining for trimming. For a cool and becoming morning dress, rose or light green linen with self or white trimming would be nice. The sleeve is good in wrist or elbow length. The style is also suitable for grenadine, serge, taffeta, percale, batiste, embroidered or plain volles and crepes. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 3 1/2 yards of 44 inch material for a 36 inch size. The skirt measures 3 yards at its lower edge.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10 cents in silver or stamps for our up-to-date 1916 large Spring and Summer Catalogue, containing over 400 designs of Ladies' Misses' and Children's Patterns, as well as the latest Embroidery Designs, also a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, giving valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

It matters little where I was born, or if my parents were rich or poor; but whether I live an honest man and hold my integrity firm in my clutch, I tell you, my brother, as plain as I can—it matters much.—Emerson.

ORDINARY DISHES.

It is not so much the kind of food one prepares as the way it is prepared and the daintiness of its serving which is important.

Oatmeal Scones.—To one cupful of well-cooked oatmeal porridge add one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of melted butter, one teaspoonful of brown sugar and a little salt. Mix these ingredients well. Sift two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, with one cupful of flour and stir in the mixture, adding flour to make the dough stiff enough to handle. Roll out half an inch thick, cut with a sharp biscuit cutter and bake a delicate brown on a hot buttered griddle.

Honey Cakes.—Beat to a cream a half cupful of strained honey. Stir in two cupfuls of flour, sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a half cupful of chopped filberts. Let this mixture stand over night to become thoroughly cold, but do not freeze. Roll out very thin and cut in fancy shapes, sprinkle with nuts.

Danish Jelly.—Cut a bunch of fresh rhubarb into inch pieces and put into a baking dish, sprinkle with a cupful of granulated sugar and a cupful of boiling water. Cook until the sirup is thick. Squeeze over the fruit the juice of half a lemon and remove from the fire. Then add enough bread-crumbs to absorb the sirup and turn into a mold to harden. Turn out on a chop plate or platter and surround with whipped sweetened cream.

A simple dessert, and one well liked by everybody, is a pastry shell baked, then filled with any kind of fruit, covered with whipped cream and served at once before the crust is soaked if the fruit is juicy.

Nut Bread.—Mix together two cupfuls of graham flour, one cupful of white flour, one tablespoonful of brown sugar, one-half cupful of broken nut meats, one-half cupful of raisins and dates, mixed and finely cut. When well mixed, add two tablespoonfuls of molasses, one teaspoonful of soda, dissolved in a tablespoonful of hot water, and a cupful and a half of sour milk. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

Farm With a Tractor and Finish on Time

The reason why tractor farming is proving so successful is that with a tractor you can do your work when it should be done at just the right time.

An Avery tractor plowing outfit gives you a lot of power so concentrated that one man or boy can operate it. It also furnishes you power which weather conditions can not stop and power that will work as you want to run it—day and night if you desire.

Ask for a free copy of the Avery tractor catalogue, get all the facts. Explains fully why it pays better to farm with a tractor and finish on time.

CARRANZA TROOPS
SAVE MORMONS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 11.—The Mormon colony of Americans in Mexico has been saved from Villa vengeance by Carranza's regular troops under General Bertani. The latter has notified the Mexican embassy of this fact and also declared that Villa has only about three hundred of his personal bodyguard with him.

According to Bertani's telegram to Ambassador Designate Arredondo he is working in unity and co-operating in every way with Col. Slocum, commanding the American forces at Columbus. He has established his headquarters at Paloma, directly across the American border from Columbus, N. M.

The message received by the Mexican embassy made it plain that Bertani is acting promptly to co-operate in every way with the United States. He has 1,200 men with him and he declares that yesterday, on his arrival near Palomas, a scouting division of his troops took up the Villa trail and attempted to surround the bandit leader. By hard riding Villa escaped and was moving toward the railway line seemingly to try to cut off the Mormon refugees. When a portion of the Carranza forces got between him and his destination, Bertani immediately cut communication with Col. Slocum and put him in possession of all of his information which was promptly conveyed to General Funston.

Officials at the Mexican embassy were well pleased with the message from General Bertani. They said that it meant that Villa's days are numbered and that the most grave danger, that of complications with the Mexican people generally, has seemingly been avoided.

MORAN BUSINESS SCHOOL NOTES.

READY TO BUILD BRIDGE THE COMING SUMMER

Complete Plans For the Rondout Creek Bridge Have Arrived—Roadbed 22 Feet Wide, With Sidewalk and Ornamental Parapet—Curved Approaches from Abseil Street.

Final and complete plans for the construction of the Kingston-Port Even bridge were received by County Superintendent Loughran this morning. The plans received are complete and are those which will be submitted to the contractors in the spring and there is every reason to believe that work will be started on the construction of the bridge the coming summer. The proposition is a big one and it will take some time to erect the bridge after the work is started. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $250,000.

The plans as approved by the state department call for a structure similar to the Heli Gate bridge at New York. There will be three main piers, one on the Rondout side, one on the island dock and one on the Port Even side of the creek. Beside these there will be several lesser piers supporting the approaches of the bridge. The main structure will comprise two steel arches with a concrete roadbed. One arch spans the main channel and the second arch the island dock, the canal and the railroad tracks. The two approaches will be of concrete and will have abutments or anchors for the steel spans.

The clearance width of the main arch will be 200 feet while the clearance height will be 85 feet at the island dock at average high tide and the clearance will be a few inches more in the middle of the channel. The roadbed proper will be of concrete 22 feet in width with 3 inch granite pavement blocks on top of the concrete bed or base. The roadway will be lighted with adequate ornamental lighting standards. A sidewalk on the lower, or river side 56 inches in width will cross the bridge. Along the sides will be an ornamental parapet or wall constructed with open panel work with the main panels of wire cut brick. This will give the bridge a very pleasing appearance and will be a decided decoration.

The grade will be slightly less than 4 per cent and will rise toward the Port Even side of the bridge.

The Abseil street side of the bridge will have curved approaches which will make the grade to the bridge accessible both from Broadway and Abseil street. The curves will be long and graceful and present a very beautiful appearance at the entrance.

The road approach from the Port Even side will be 16 feet in width of the main roadway and will join the present highway about half way over the flat below the school house. The entire right of way on the Port Even side will be over the Hasbrouck estate.

The time for advertising bids is about a month and when bids have been advertised for and the contract let it is probable that work will immediately commence perhaps this summer.

The present plans are slightly different from those formerly prepared and the steel archway is something which did not appear in former plans.

BOY SCOUT TROOPS PREPARE TO PARADE

Fifty boy scouts comprising the three troops in Kingston were put through practice in drilling last night at the armory by Sergeant Charles Dixon of Company M in preparation for their parade during Governor Whitman's visit at the auto show. Most of the boys were in uniform and quickly learned the steps as taught by their instructor to whom they are most grateful for his kindness. Sergeant Dixon was assisted by three scoutmasters, Harry Evory of Troop No. 1, Edward Geschwinder of Troop No. 2, and Munroe Burger of Troop No. 3, who in turn were aided by their assistant scoutmasters.

This was the first union meeting of the three troops and was a most successful, the youths being eager to learn the military steps as taught by a member of Company M. Several numbers of Company M were present to witness the drill and expressed approval of the marching. The boy scout organization is not for the purpose of instilling the military spirit in the youths but for the purpose of teaching the secrets of nature and making them better acquainted with the beauties of Nature. Marching and drilling tends to make them erect and give them pride in their bearing. That Governor Whitman will be more than pleased to see the scouts in the line of his parade, there is little doubt.

The increase in the ranks of the local scouts requires that more troops be formed to prevent the overcrowding of the present ones and the only hindrance at present is the lack of men in contact with boys and in unison with the scout movement. Men teachers in the Sunday Schools of the city or men of good character in contact with youths in factories are needed to carry on this work to educate the future citizens of our country. It is the desire of the scout founders to take the boys to the big outdoors, into God's country, there to make their minds pure and bodies sound. No movement for preparedness could be more effective.

If there are such men in the city who wish to spend a few hours each week in this good work, they are welcome to a meeting of all scouts and men interested in the work, at the Kingston Masonic Lodge rooms in the Ulster County Savings Bank building on Wall street Thursday evening, March 16, at 7:30, when plans will be made for establishing more troops. Many of the most distinguished citizens of the city are members of the scout council which rules the local organization.

Fish and Game Association.

The annual meeting of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association was held Friday night at the office of Ward B. Everett and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Elva H. Bogart, president; Franklin Tobey, Jr., vice president; Carlton S. Preston, secretary; Roswell C. Coles, treasurer. A number of applications for membership were acted on and reports of officers and members gave every indication that the association will continue to grow during the ensuing year. Senator Charles W. Walton was present and explained in detail the bills prepared jointly by the State Conservation Commission and the chairman of the Senate and Assembly Conservation Committees. The association expressed its entire approval and satisfaction with the bills.

County Court on Monday.

There are only fourteen cases on the calendar for the March term of county court, which convenes Monday, March 13, before Judge Jenkins and a trial jury. Twelve of the cases are issues of fact one is an issue of law, while another is an appeal for new trial in county court from the judgment of the Kingston city court.

Prunists in the Snow.

A pruning demonstration was held in the orchards of Leslie Herring at Ulster Park on Thursday, and despite the deep snow fourteen persons attended the demonstration. The demonstration on Friday in the orchard of John Herring near St. Remy was postponed on account of the storm.

Verdict of $5,000.

A verdict of $5,000 for personal injuries was given James St. John of Carmel, Putnam county, by a supreme court jury against a highway contractor. St. John was injured in driving over a state highway during construction work.

SOCIETY NOTES.

A special meeting of the Monday Afternoon Auction Bridge Club was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Sara Thompson, on President's Place. The prize was won by Mrs. Samuel Watts. During the afternoon, the guests partook of a fine repast.

A birthday surprise party was given Mrs. Eva Wood at her home, 161 Tremper avenue, Friday evening.

The event was the celebration of Mrs. Wood's birthday. Games were played and a very social and pleasant evening was spent. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Ola N. Short, and the table was beautifully decorated with pinks and smilax. A large birthday cake formed the center piece and Mrs. Wood was the recipient of many useful and ornamental presents. Covers were laid for 12.

Re-Shulitis. Thomas Re of No. 644 Broadway and Miss Sarah C. Shulitis of No. 122 Fair street, were quietly married in Saugerties on February 21, by the Rev. J. M. Cornish.

Sickler-Barhans. At Trinity M. E. parsonage, on Friday, March 10th, Miss Gertrude Barhans of Sleightburgh and Charles Lester Sickler of Ponckhockie street, were married. The Rev. George E. Barber performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sickler will make their home in this city.

Nelson-Thiell. Miss Josephine Thiell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thiell, of Milton, and Charles Nelson, sergeant of the National Guard of Connecticut, were married on February 24 in Bridgeport, Conn. Mr. Nelson is the son of a retired Methodist minister. Mrs. Nelson is spending a week or so with her parents. The bride was one of Milton's most popular young women, and will be greatly missed. The best wishes of this community go with this young couple on life's journey.

Iris-Cantine. Miss Harriet T. Cantine, daughter of James Cantine, of Montgomery street, Saugerties, was united in marriage to Francis H. Iris at the home of the bride at 12 o'clock Wednesday noon, by the Rev. J. M. Cornish. The bride was very prettily attired in a blue cloth suit and carried a beautiful bouquet of narcissus and hyacinths. When a little over a century ago deep sections were made for the sewers in Lombard street the lowest stratum was found to consist of tessellated pavements. Many colored dice were found lying scattered about, and above this stratum was a thick layer of wood ashes, suggesting the debris of charred wooden buildings.

While building the exchange workmen came upon a gravel pit full of oyster shells, bones of cattle, old sandals and shattered pottery. Two pavements were dug up under the French church in Threadneedle street, and other pavements have been cut through in several parts of the city. The soil seems to have risen over Roman London at the rate of nearly a foot a century. Still further must the searchers dig to find the third London, the earlier London of the Britons.—London Chronicle.

THE THREE LONDONS.

Roman London lies buried about eighteen feet below the level of Chancery. In nearly all parts of the city there have been discovered tessellated pavements. Roman tombs, lamps, vases, sandals, keys, ornaments, weapons, coins and statues of the Roman gods.

ELBERT H. GARY

STEEL TRUST CHAIRMAN INDICTED—TRIAL TO BE PUSHED.

Youngstown, O., March 11.—The Mahoning County grand jury has ended its investigation of the strike riots last January in East Youngstown by returning indictments against Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, and against six big steel companies.

The indictments charge Gary, the corporation of which he is the head, one of its subsidiaries and four independent steel concerns with conspiring to fix the price of iron and steel products in Mahoning county in violation of the Valentine anti-trust law.

"Judge Gary has been indicted individually," said County Prosecutor A. M. Henderson, "because the evidence laid before the grand jury tends to show that he is the director of the iron and steel industry in the United States."

Mr. Henderson said the trial of Gary and the corporations would be, today, run a Want Ad of your own offering your services and before the end of this month of March you will have a place for the summer.

held within a month. He added that an effort would be made then to prove that the alleged combination to fix the price of labor brought about the unrest among the laborers which resulted in the East Youngstown riots.

A Barnum Story. A story is told of the meeting of Matthew Arnold with P. T. Barnum, the great showman, in America. Mr. Arnold when introduced said how proud he felt at making the acquaintance of a man with a worldwide reputation. "Ah, Mr. Arnold," said Barnum, "we are both public men, but the difference between you and me is that you are a notability, while I am only a notoriety."

No Need of a "Front." "That shabby looking old fellow is worth several millions."

"You surprise me. Why doesn't he wear better clothes?"

"Oh, he doesn't have to borrow any money. People come to him to borrow it."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Mixed in His History. "Was Rome founded by Rome?" Inquired a pupil of the teacher.

"No, my son," replied the wise man; "it was Juliet who was found dead by Rome."—Stray Stories.

Yes, Indeed. "Th' meek may inherit th' earth, all right," murmured Uncle Ike, "but he's in luck if some o'st not so durned meek don't control th' will an' at away with it!"—Indiana.

One of a Kind. Disgusted Cop (at crossing) — Say, you're a peach of a driver! If you was crossing the alkali desert you'd run into a hydrant.—New York Times.

Unless you bear with the fauns of a friend you betray your own.—Synes.

Still Wanted. Although the automobile has supplanted the horse to a very large extent, there are still many people who are devoted to horses and to them for riding, or driving at their country places.

So, as the time for the exodus from city to country approaches, coachmen and stable hands of all kinds should be on the lookout for appeals for such helpers in the Want Columns.

If you don't see any such appeal today, run a Want Ad of your own offering your services and before the end of this month of March you will have a place for the summer.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

New York, March 11.—A remarkable story concerning Charles E. Courtney, the veteran coach of the Cornell crews has just come to light. Courtney coached the Iliaca crews from the day they reached the Poughkeepsie camp last June, right up to race day—and remembers nothing about it.

On the way to Poughkeepsie, his skull was fractured near the base of the brain. He was in a Pullman compartment. The train stopped suddenly and Courtney's head banged up against the wooden end of his bunk.

The jolt smashed in the skull of the "Grand old man of the Water," but no one learned of Courtney's real trouble until over two weeks later—until Courtney had coached his big crew to a thrilling victory. And the strangest part of it all was that Courtney drilled his crews for two weeks with his mind a blank as far as the present was concerned.

The day after the accident Courtney was out with his boys, sending them through the paces. Day after day he drilled them. He appeared rational in everything he did and directed operations with the same uncanny power that has been his for many years. Yet, Courtney was out of his mind all that time, suffering with a head fracture that caused the bone to press on his brain, and rendering useless the recording part of that organ.

Almost every night during those two or three weeks at Poughkeepsie the aged coach would be stricken with fainting spells, or would suffer hemorrhages. His assistant became alarmed and wanted to call a physician, but Courtney refused medical aid. In a subconscious way he knew something was radically wrong with him, but he feared to submit to an examination until his duty as coach was done.

Courtney sent his crews through their last stunts on the day before the big race and then, his work completed, he collapsed. He was taken to a hospital and the doctors there quickly learned what ailed him and marvelled that he had been able to endure the terrible agony of those weeks.

It will always be a mystery to the medical world how the aged Courtney was able to perform his strenuous duties day after day while suffering from an injury that would have been fatal to 50 of every 100 other men.

For a long time Courtney hovered life and death. And then he passed safely through the crisis and his reason came back. He asked the nurse to summon the doctor "right away, please."

When a physician came to his bedside, Courtney said: "Fix me up, quickly, doctor; I've got to coach my crews for the race. The boys need me. We've got to win this year."

The doctor looked at Courtney quizzically for a moment, smiled and said:

"No need of that. The race is over—and the Cornell boys won."

Courtney was dumfounded.

"What date is this?" asked Courtney. The doctor told him—and Courtney gasped.

"Why, that accident happened to me nearly three weeks ago!" he exclaimed. "I thought it was only yesterday. Who coached my boys down here in Poughkeepsie? Was it

Johnny Hoyle (Courtney's assistant)? It was the physician's turn to be bewildered.

"Why you coached the crews, Mr. Courtney," he answered. "You coached them from the day they got to Poughkeepsie until the day before the race. Don't you remember anything about it?"

"No, nothing," replied Courtney. And then, after a pause: "I faintly recall now about being in Poughkeepsie. That's because I remember about a newspaper man coming to me and asking me some questions and later I went down to the boat-house with him. That's all that comes back to me. As to my movements during the days since I was jolted in the train until now my mind is a blank."

FAST GAME EXPECTED TONIGHT

If the Crescents outplay the Kingston basketball five at the armory tonight it will be the last big game of the season; if the Kingston Five turns the tables on their opponents who nosed them out in the first game at the Y. M. C. A. by a close score there will still be another game to be played in the future. Whatever the result may be, indications point to a mighty fast and a scientific exhibition of the indoor sport. The goal for which both clans are striving in the semi-professional championship of Kingston and tonight's game is the deciding one, the Crescents having the first contest to their credit.

Since the moment when the Kingston Five walked off the floor after their defeat at the Y. M. C. A. they have been firmly convinced that the Crescents will be the under-dogs in the second affair and the Crescents are as certain that they will be the winners. There have been several changes in the two lineups since that first contest. Cism has switched to the Crescents and Brown, the former star guard on the Kingston Five, has replaced him at the forward position. Whoever has the misfortune to be placed in charge of this fast man will have his hands full. Claude Elmendorf and Stevens, new men on the Kingston Five, will alternate at one of the guard positions with Davis at the other. Spalt, the biggest man on the Crescents, will play center tonight while Cism and Robinson will be the forwards. Barnhardt and Dittus will be assigned the job of watching the Kingston forwards.

The complete lineups of the two teams follows: Crescents—Spalt, center; Cism, Fox and Robinson, forwards; Barnhardt, Dittus and Newman, guards. Kingston Five—Craig, center; Brown and Wenzel, forwards; Davis, C. Elmendorf and Stevens, guards.

Matty Bene, the popular Hudson River League referee, will toss the leather at 8:30 and after the game is over, dancing will be indulged in until 12 to the strains of McLean's orchestra—the largest at any basketball game yet played in the armory. This collection of musicians played the music at last night's game at the high school and the dancers won't over it. The pieces will be the trombone, cornet, two violins, two clarinets, drum and cymbals and piano.

We won't say that rooters for each of the teams have been in cheering practice for the game but we will be bold enough to predict a close rivalry in this respect as there will be a good crowd from each team. A high school aggregation will be on hand to root for the Crescents, while the Y. M. C. A. fans will urge their favorites to victory.

For this big game only 25 cents will be charged and there are no reserved seats whatever. The early comers will get advantage in this respect.

HIGH SCHOOL BEATS CRESCENTS 19-13

Friday evening the high school varsity won what is perhaps their greatest and last victory in this city for this year when they defeated the Crescent five of this city by a score of 19 to 13.

Tonight the Crescent five will play the Kingston five for the championship of the city, and the fact that the high school team beat such a team adds the more honor to the victory.

The Crescent line up was mostly made up of heavy six footers, while one or two of their players were that short, stocky sort of athletes who always make themselves decidedly useful. In all the older lineup greatly outweighed the students, but they, the Crescents, were under a considerable disadvantage because of the griders which in several instances blocked shots that might or might not have been point setters.

The game was the fastest and roughest the high school gym has ever seen, and the student players could have used saddles to a good advantage when riding their big opponents up and down the floor, but the Crescents did enough charging, and holding to counteract this little playful but unusual feature of the game.

Although very few fouls were called against either side in proportion to the great number made, still Mr. Wenzel's umpiring was not one-sided, and he called 11 fouls on the Crescents and 10 on the students.

During the game the high school students made several very neat long distance shots, and the fact that Dolson shot 6 foul baskets out of 6 chances had a noticeable effect upon the score. The score:

	FB	FP	P
Cism, rf.	2	0	4
Dittus, fg.	1	0	2
Spalt, c.	2	1	5
Neuman, lf.	0	0	0
Barnhardt, lg.	1	0	2

	FB	FP	TP
H. S. Varsity.	2	0	4
Kiernan, rf.	2	0	4
Dolson, lf.	1	6	3
Johnson, c.	1	0	2
Joyce, fg.	2	1	5
Palisi, lg.	0	0	0
Silverman, rf.	0	0	0

Totals 6 7 19

The members of the high school team are grateful to the Crescents for their willingness to fill in a date which otherwise would not have been filled. Although their big game with the Kingston five was to occur the next night, the Crescents gamely consented to play the high school basketballers Friday night. The Crescents were also responsible for the eight piece orchestra which played for the dancing. Unfortunately there were very few dancers to enjoy the excellent music which came from this source.

FIELD OF SPORTS.

Notes of Baseball, Pugilism and Other Lines of Athletics.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 11.—Although there was no knock out Jack Dillon, the Indianapolis fighter, gave Jim Flynn a pretty severe lacing in their ten round bout last night. Flynn was never in the hunt. His redeeming feature was his ability to take punishment, and many spectators at the ring side believe that Dillon held back in order to save his opponent from taking the count.

Mineral Wells, Tex., March 11.—Joe Benz and Jim Scott, who comprise the White Sox training squad here, today unanimously adopted a resolution complimenting each other on their excellent condition and voted to take a day off.

New York, March 11.—Whether Frank Moran would spend another day in idleness was not decided early today. The challenger may rest up until Monday before resuming his training, the finishing touches of which will be devoted more to boxing than to any other preparation. Jess Willard is keeping the "pot boiling." There is no letup in his training. Today he added more boxing to his program and will go about a dozen rounds with his sparring partners.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—Frank Gotch, world's champion heavyweight wrestler, won two straight falls over William Demetral here last night.

T. NELSON METCALF
NOTEBOOK FOOTBALL NOW FOR COLUMBIA.

New York, March 11.—Unlike the Harvard football squad, the Columbia players will not confine their thinking exclusively to the gridiron. For Coach T. Nelson Metcalf has started his course in "Inside Football." The veterans from last fall and those aspiring for positions on class teams next fall will attend the class every week. The first lecture was on field generalship. All the men came with notebooks under their arms and when things got under way a visitor wouldn't know but what it was a regular class in the university curriculum, so industrious were the men in taking down what Metcalf had to say. They will be examined at the end of the year and receive a grading.

Social at Marbletown.

There will be a social and supper at the home of Jesse DuBois, Marbletown, for the benefit of North Marbletown Church on Wednesday evening, March 15. If stormy, the next fair evening.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MARCH 11, 1916.

"Villa, Dead or Alive," is the ringing phrase from Washington which marks the death blow to, or possibly only another slight interruption in, "watchful waiting," or "visionary vacillation," whatever the reader has been pleased to term the administration policy with respect to Mexico. This is not the first time we have entered Mexico—but this time it appears as though the blood that runs in the scholastic veins at the White House were really up and the capture of a cut-throat border raider actually to be accomplished, regardless of any former failure, as in the matter of the salute to the flag at the Vera Cruz invasion. The nation cannot but await with anxiety the fruits of this change to the right-about in administration policy. The baptism of blood which marked the induction of the new Secretary of War into office, will test the mettle of the man in a most difficult position. Villa, the man once favored for a successor to Huerta, is now a fugitive before a punitive expedition from the nation for which he professed so ardent a friendship and which he has at last succeeded in embroiling in the internal fighting.

With the attitude of Carranza reported as unfavorable, if not hostile, toward this latest step from Washington, it looks, too, as though the first chief may yet be the last and the entire situation south of the border cleaned up to some semblance of decency and order. Plainly a move to assure the punishment of a border bandit, the expedition into Mexico is one in which important eventualities may rapidly succeed the accomplishment of its ostensible object. By such means may the administration regain some of the lost prestige entailed in its absolute failure to deal effectively with this situation in the past but whether this can be brought about without the loss of many American lives is a matter that only time can establish. The dilatory, and at times stupid, tactics employed in the furtherance of what we have been pleased to style our Mexican policy have been such as to cause the entire country to welcome activity of some sort, even should such activity assume the grave form of armed intervention.

Colonel Roosevelt says "June is a long way off." Likewise is the Colonel, at present sojourning in the British West Indies where the coffee, even unto the third or fourth cup, is probably stronger than that retailed in this climate. "It would be a mistake to nominate me unless the country has, in its mood, something of the heroic and is ready to realize its ideals in action" is one of the cryptic utterances in this latest interview in which another significant sentence occurs: "I am not in the least interested in the political fortunes of myself or any other man." You can draw almost any inference you desire from these statements. The "unless" is promising, the "not in the least interested" non-committal. Perhaps, after all, the Colonel is having his little joke despite the seriousness of times he holds to be the equal of those which tried men's souls in this country's great wars. He wants the nation in a more heroic mood toward nations whose activities threaten our honor and peace and the inference follows, that it must be a heroic country, indeed, that takes Roosevelt as the remedy at the present state of our foreign relations. But before the country has time to take the Colonel's statement at its face value, our troops will be over the border in Mexico and we will again be making history at the point of the bayonet.

Embargoes on freight for New England and points on the Atlantic seaboard are at an exasperating stage for shippers and the inability of the railroads to relieve the situation has resulted in some asperity being injected. The Interstate Commerce Commission has been giving consideration to the matter but what this body can do by way of accelerating the movement of exports which are at the bottom of the congestion is likewise a problem. It might reassure shippers by pointing to the fact that the shipping is insufficient to meet the demands of export cargoes now piled up in railroad terminals and warehouses at seaports. But a sweet reasonableness is not a characteristic of shippers, who, with business interests, find great hindrance and loss from the railroads' suspending service to which they feel they are entitled. Facing a condition without precedents to guide, all parties to the controversy feel themselves aggrieved at a situation over which they have no control. The Interstate Commerce Commission may be able to bring about a better feeling, although the assistance of shippers in unloading cars promptly seems the only relief in sight against a prolonged blockade.

Wilson's Go Yachting.

By Telegraph to the Freeman.
Washington, March 11.—President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson are this morning aboard the presidential yacht Mayflower in the Chesapeake Bay. They boarded the vessel here last night after attending the theater and the yacht started down the Potomac at once. Mrs. Wilson will not return to Washington until Monday morning unless some acute crisis arises in the Mexican situation. Arrangements were made before the president left to keep him constantly in touch with the Mexican situation. All dispatches received from the border will be sent by wireless to the Mayflower.

An Orange Social.

An Orange Social will be held on Tuesday evening, March 14, in the lecture room of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church. A most humorous play, "A Love of a Donkey," will be presented by several young women, whose talent alone that line has been thoroughly proven in former appearances, especially the laughter provoking "ladies," Ann, Jennie Hopkins and Katy Doolan. Excellent readings and vocal and instrumental music will be rendered during the evening. There will be a surprise regarding—but, that would be telling.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

Reader—"Have you any modern fiction?" Librarian—"No madam; our books-buyer has been on a six months' trip."—Judge.

"We have a man here who was making money hand over fist when the police caught him." "How was he making it?" "Porch-climbing."—Baltimore American.

"Will you start up that fireless cooker, Norah?" said the lady of the house. "Sure I will mum," replied the green girl. "Where's the matches?"—Yonkers Statesman.

First Young Thing—"I started reading 'Les Miserables' last night. It is very interesting." Second Young Thing—"Isn't it! I think it is Victor Herbert's masterpiece."—Boston Transcript.

"What is your favorite musical composition?" "Haven't picked it yet," replied Mr. Cumrox. "But I'll say right now it's going to be something my daughter doesn't try to sing or play."—Washington Star.

Always Laid Up.

Ralph Connor, the Canadian clergyman, who wrote "The Sky Pilot" and other novels, is now serving in France, whence he wrote recently to his New York publisher: "Our Canadian troops have suffered heavily. But they keep up a good heart."

"At a tea in London I met a Canadian hobbling on crutches beside a pretty countess."

"We Canadians," I said to him, "are meeting with much hospitality over here, are we not?"

"Much? Too much," he answered. "Why, I've been in hospital nearly all the time."—New York Herald.

Tact.

Senator Lodge was talking at a dinner in Washington about tact.

"I remember," he said, "a chap whose wife said to him:

"Will, why did you tell the Smithsons you married me for my voice when you know I can't sing a note?"

"Will, the tactful, answered soothingly:

"Well, my love, I had to give some reason, and that was the only one I could think of."—Washington Star.

Zeppelins or Spiders.

A story is told of a young French woman who observed with punctiliousness the wartime precautions ordered by the police.

She kept the shutters closed at night and the curtains pulled down, so that not a speck of light would escape from her apartments. But one night, when reading the newspapers, she said that she had reached the limit.

The newspapers said that if the Zeppelins came, all persons must go into the cellars. She told her friends she would not go down into the cellar.

"I do not care for the Zeppelins," she said. "It is no use asking me. I will not go down into the cellar."

"But why?" asked her friend.

"Because," she replied, "I am afraid of spiders."—New York Times.

Grateful Papa.

Miss Curley kept a private school, and one morning was interviewing a new pupil.

"What does your father do to earn his living?" the teacher asked the little girl.

"Please, ma'am," was the prompt reply, "he doesn't live with us. My mamma supports me."

"Well, then," asked the teacher, "how does your mother earn her living?"

"Why," replied the little girl in an artless manner, "she gets paid for staying away from father."—Boston Post.

Mrs. Ida Parrells of Schenectady paid a visit to the lodge and there were other visitors present. There was an exceptionally large attendance and the lodge is in a very prosperous condition at the present time.

Water Wagon is Crowded.

Today was another quiet day in recorder's court as the police found things so quiet that this would seem to indicate that the wagon must be crowded as no arrests of plain drunks have been made in the past few days. Today is pay day, however, and it is quite likely that Monday will be busy at the city hall.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

New York, March 11.—A remarkable story concerning Charles E. Courtney, the veteran coach of the Cornell crews has just come to light.

Courtney coached the Cornell crews from the day they reached the Poughkeepsie camp last June, right up to race day—and remembers nothing about it.

On the way to Poughkeepsie, his skull was fractured near the base of the brain. He was in a Pullman compartment. The train stopped suddenly and Courtney's head banged up against the wooden end of his bunk.

The jolt smashed in the skull of the "Grand old man of the Water," but no one learned of Courtney's real trouble until over two weeks later—not until Courtney had coached his big crew to a thrilling victory, and the strangest part of it all was that Courtney drilled his crews for two weeks with his mind a blank as far as the present was concerned.

The day after the accident Courtney was out with his boys, sending them through the paces. Day after day he drilled them. He appeared rational in everything he did and directed operations with the same unerring power that has been his for many years. Yet, Courtney was out of his mind all that time, suffering with a head fracture that caused the bone to press on his brain, and rendering useless the recording part of that organ.

Almost every night during those two or three weeks at Poughkeepsie the aged coach would be stricken with fainting spells, or would suffer hemorrhages. His assistant became alarmed and wanted to call a physician, but Courtney refused medical aid. In a subconscious way he knew something was radically wrong with him, but he feared to submit to an examination until his duty as coach was done.

Courtney sent his crews through their last stunts on the day before the big race and then, his work completed, he collapsed. He was taken to a hospital and the doctors there quickly learned what ailed him and marvelled that he had been able to endure the terrible agony of those weeks.

It will always be a mystery to the medical world how the aged Courtney was able to perform his strenuous duties after day while suffering from an injury that would have been fatal to 50 of every 100 other men.

For a long time Courtney hovered life and death. And then he passed safely through the crisis and his reason came back. He asked the nurse to summon the doctor "right away, please."

When a physician came to his bedside, Courtney said: "Fix me up, quickly, doctor. I've got to coach my crews for the race. The boys need me. We've got to win this year."

The doctor looked at Courtney quizzically for a moment, smiled and said:

"No need of that. The race is over—and the Cornell boys won."

Courtney was dumfounded.

"What date is this?" asked Courtney. The doctor told him—and Courtney gasped.

"Why, that accident happened to me nearly three weeks ago," he exclaimed. "I thought it was only yesterday. Who coached my boys down here in Poughkeepsie? Was it

Johnny Hoyle (Courtney's assistant)? It was the physician's turn to be bewildered.

"Why you coached the crews, Mr. Courtney," he answered. "You coached them from the day they got to Poughkeepsie until the day before the race. Don't you remember anything about it?"

"No, nothing," replied Courtney. And then, after a pause, "I faintly recall now about being in Poughkeepsie. That's because I remember about a newspaper man coming to me and asking me some questions and later I went down to the boat-house with him. That's all that comes back to me. As to my movements during the days since I was jolted in the train until now my mind is a blank."

FAST GAME EXPECTED TONIGHT

If the Crescents outplay the Kingston basketball five at the armory tonight it will be the last big game of the season; if the Kingston Five turns the tables on their opponents who nosed them out in the first game at the Y. M. C. A. by a close score there will still be another game to be played in the future. Whatever the result may be, indications point to a night fast and a scientific exhibition of the indoor sport. The goal for which both classes are striving in the semi-professional championship of Kingston and tonight's game is the deciding one, the Crescents having the first contest to their credit.

Since the moment when the Kingston Five walked off the floor after their defeat at the Y. M. C. A. they have been firmly convinced that the Crescents will be the under-dogs in the second affair and the Crescents are as certain that they will be the winners. There have been several changes in the two lineups since that first contest. Cism has switched to the Crescents and Brown, the former star guard on the Kingston Five, has replaced him at the forward position. Whoever has the misfortune to be placed in charge of this fast man will have his hands full. Claude Elmendorf and Stevens, new men on the Kingston Five, will alternate at one of the guard positions with Davis at the other. Spall, the biggest man on the Crescents, will play center tonight while Cism and Robinson will be the forwards. Barnhardt and Dittus will be assigned the job of watching the Kingston forwards.

The complete lineups of the two teams follows: Crescents—Spall, center; Cism, Fox and Robinson, forwards; Barnhardt, Dittus and Newman, guards; Kingston Five—Craig, center; Brown and Wenzel, forwards; Davis, C. Elmendorf and Stevens, guards.

Matty Bence, the popular Hudson River League referee, will toss the leather at 8:30 and after the game is over, dancing will be indulged in until 12 to the strains of McLean's orchestra—the largest at any basketball game yet played in the armory. This collection of musicians played the music at last night's game at the high school and the dancers went wild over it. The pieces will be the trombone, cornet, two violins, two clarinets, drum and cymbals and piano.

We won't say that rooters for each of the teams have been in cheering practice for the game but we will say that enough to predict a close rivalry in this respect as there will be a good crowd from each team. A high school aggregation will be on hand to root for the Crescents, while the Y. M. C. A. fans will urge their favorites to victory.

For this big game only 25 cents will be charged and there are no reserved seats whatever. The early comers will get advantage in this respect.

HIGH SCHOOL BEATS CRESCENTS 19-13

Friday evening the high school varsity won what is perhaps their greatest and last victory in this city for this year when they defeated the Crescent five of this city by a score of 19 to 13.

Tonight the Crescent five will play the Kingston five for the championship of the city, and the fact that the high school team beat such a team adds the more honor to the victory.

The Crescent line up was mostly made up of heavy six footers, while one or two of their players were that short, stocky sort of athletes who always make themselves decidedly useful. In all the older lineup greatly outweighed the students, but they, the Crescents, were under a considerable disadvantage because of the guards which in several instances blocked shots that might or might not have been point getters. The game was the fastest and roughest the high school gym has ever seen, and the student players could have used saddles to a good advantage when riding their big opponents up and down the floor, but the Crescents did enough charging, and holding to counteract this little playful but unusual feature of the game.

Although very few fouls were called against either side in proportion to the great number made, still Mr. Wenzel's umpiring was not one-sided, and he called 11 fouls on the Crescents and 10 on the students.

During the game the high school students made several very neat long distance shots, and the fact that 6 chances had a noticeable effect upon the score. The score:

Crescents.	FB	FP	P
Cism, rf.	2	0	4
Dittus, rg.	1	0	2
Spall, c.	2	1	5
Newman, lf.	0	0	0
Barnhardt, lg.	1	0	2
Totals	6	1	13

The members of the high school team are grateful to the Crescents for their willingness to fill in a date which otherwise would not have been filled. Although their big game with the Kingston five was to occur the next night, the Crescents gamely consented to play the high school basketballers Friday night. The Crescents were also responsible for the eight piece orchestra which played for the dancing. Unfortunately there were very few dancers to enjoy the excellent music which came from this source.

FIELD OF SPORTS.

Notes of Baseball, Pugilism and Other Lines of Athletics.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, March 11.—Although there was no knock out Jack Dillon, the Indianapolis fighter, gave Jim Flynn a pretty severe lacing in their ten round bout last night. Flynn was never in the hunt. His redeeming feature was his ability to take punishment, and many spectators at the ring side believe that Dillon held back in order to save his opponent from taking the count.

Mineral Wells, Tex., March 11.—Joe Benz and Jim Scott, who comprise the White Sox training squad here, today unanimously adopted a resolution complimenting each other on their excellent condition and voted to take a day off.

New York, March 11.—Whether Frank Moran would spend another day in idleness was not decided early today. The challenger may rest up until Monday before resuming his training, the finishing touches of which will be devoted more to boxing than to any other preparation. Jess Willard is keeping the "pot boiling." There is no letup in his training. Today he added more boxing to his program and will go about a dozen rounds with his sparring partners.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—Frank Gotch, world's champion heavyweight wrestler, won two straight falls over William Demetral here last night.

T. NELSON METCALF
NOTEBOOK FOOTBALL NOW FOR COLUMBIA.

New York, March 11.—Unlike the Harvard football squad, the Columbia players will not confine their thinking exclusively to the gridiron, for Coach T. Nelson Metcalf has started his course in "Inside Football." The veterans from last fall and those aspiring for positions on class teams next fall will attend the class every week. The first lecture was on field generalship. All the men came with notebooks under their arms and when things got under way a visitor wouldn't know but what it was a regular class in the university curriculum, so industrious were the men in taking down what Metcalf had to say. They will be examined at the end of the year and receive a grading.

Social at Marbletown.

There will be a social and supper at the home of Jesse DuBois, Marbletown, for the benefit of North Marbletown Church on Wednesday evening, March 15. If stormy, the next fair evening.
